NEWS BRIEFS

Neighborhood comes together for cleanup

Students are invited to join churches, business owners and the city of Eugene in cleaning up litter, trash and graffiti in the West University neighborhood Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Shovels, brushes, small trucks, gloves, rakes, mowers, hoes, wheel barrows, clippers and bark mulch are all needed in addition to refreshments and cash donations.

Volunteers can meet at the Central Presbyterian Church at 1475 Ferry St.

Birds to be identified on Fern Ridge walk

University ornithology Professor Dan Gleason will lead a bird identification walk Saturday at Fern Ridge Reservoir to help people learn more about Eugene's wild bird population. The group will meet at 7 a.m. at The Barn on the University campus. Those interested must preregister with the University Outdoor Program. The walk is free for co-op members and students. There is a $2 charge for the general public. For more information call, 346-4365.

Eugene Public Library will sell magazines

The Eugene Public Library is sponsoring a Used Magazine Sale today and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. upstairs in the library's lecture room.

Magazines will cost 25 cents each or five for a dollar. Proceeds from the sale will be used to update and expand the library's materials and services. For information, call 687-5450.

CALC holds evening of entertainment

The 12th Annual Cornucopia: A Multicultural Evening of Entertainment, including an ice cream social, silent auction and entertainment program, will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the First United Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the Community Alliance of Lane County, the entertainment program will begin at 7 p.m. Admission is free, but donations of $3 to $6 dollars will be appreciated.

Make-A-Wish seeks project volunteers

The Make-A-Wish Foundation of Oregon is seeking volunteers to grant wishes to children who are struggling with life-threatening illnesses or to act as project coordinators for special events in the Lane County area.

A special training session for wish-granters is scheduled for Saturday at the Marriott Courtyard from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. For more information, call Ann Harbert at 1-800-934-9474.

Cancer survivor to read book selections

Patricia Mees Armstrong, breast cancer survivor and prize-winning Eugene author, will read selections from her books Sunday at 3 p.m. and again on Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Aud.

Armstrong is best known for her poetry and fiction. Her fiction won first place in the Kay Snow international contest this year, and her story "The Hat" was recognized among 1,000 entries in a North Carolina competition.

At the event, Armstrong will sign copies of her newest collection of poems, titled "Daring to Dance, Refusing to Die." Proceeds and donations will benefit breast cancer research.

Student ambassadors chosen by UO alumni

German and business major Rebecca Woolley and general science major Patrick Tandin-gan will be honored as 1997 Student Ambassadors at the Homecoming football game at Autzen Stadium Saturday.

The students were selected earlier this week by the University Alumni Association and the University Student Alumni Association because of their academic excellence.
