

UO: Bowyer's backup is three-way battle

things up. "They're going to double up Jenny every time she gets it," she said. "So if she just looks to the opposite side of the court, there's going to be a lot of free shots for the guards."

Bowyer started all but one game for the Ducks last season and earned her reputation as a defensive specialist with 40 steals while often getting the assignment of covering the opposition's top guard.

"Everyone knows her as the defensive machine, but she's also a big offensive threat," Hughes said. "She's worked on her shot all summer, and she's nailing every three she shoots from out there [in practice]."

Bowyer said she wants to continue her defensive tenacity but also step it up on the offensive end.

"That's been my emphasis the whole year, so I hope to improve my shooting percentage this year."

Bowyer shot just 33 percent from the field last season, while averaging 6.5 points per game.

The Ducks boast tremendous depth this season and should not lose much when they call on the bench.

Freshman Karen Piers will get the majority of the minutes backing up Hughes.

"Karen Piers is developing very quickly as a freshman," Oregon head coach Jody Runge said. "She is a good shooter and a smart offensive player. But all the freshmen need to develop defensively."

Backing up Bowyer is a "dog fight between Kirsten McKnight, Shannon Thorne and Nicole Strange," Runge said.

McKnight is a senior who played in 14 games for the Ducks last season.

Thorne is a redshirt freshman with a good outside shot and is a strong ball handler who should see a lot of playing time.

Strange played in 25 games last season, shooting 44.8 percent from the field.

Overall, the Ducks are confident about where their guards rank in the Pac-10.

"I think we've got the most experienced backcourt in the Pac-10, which other teams I think will find intimidating," Bowyer said.

However, Hughes wasn't so diplomatic.

"We're the best guards in the Pac-10, that's all I'm saying," she said.

Ducks: David Weber will be out at least three weeks

that for whatever we want to do in the postseason, and for our own pride and our own feeling about ourselves, we want to get a win and even close out with three."

And it all starts with the Huskies, where a victory, Bellotti said, could do more good for his team than just a 'W' in the win column.

"The Huskies are a very good football team, and a win over them would go a long way towards making this a successful season," he said.

In other notes: Offensive tackle David Weber sustained somewhere between a second- and third-degree tear of his medial collateral ligament in his right knee during Saturday's game and will be out at least three weeks with a possible return for the Oregon State game Nov. 22.

Trivia

Kenny Wheaton returned an interception for a touchdown against Fresno State in the season opener last season.

Horoscope by Frances Drake

For Tuesday, Oct. 28, 1997

ARIES

(March 21 to April 19)
You're more confident and know what your next business move should be. A meeting with an adviser goes well. A cultural interest appeals to you.

TAURUS

(April 20 to May 20)
Although you can communicate effectively, you are dealing with a scatterbrained audience. You achieve few tangible results from a business meeting, but it's only a temporary setback.

GEMINI

(May 21 to June 20)
It takes extra self-discipline to get into a working mood. Your social life could be marred by a difference of opinion over a financial matter. Take time in the evening to straighten things out.

CANCER

(June 21 to July 22)
You make some domestic plans. You could have too much going on at home to be comfortable about entertaining guests. Still, company could drop by during the evening.

LEO

(July 23 to Aug. 22)
You could be a bit extravagant. You need to work out details of a travel plan. In the evening, the enjoyment of quiet pursuits is preferred over socializing.

VIRGO

(Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)
A domestic concern could spark a quarrel. Don't let temperament undermine efficiency on the job. Be sure to give a parent the proper respect later in the day.

LIBRA

(Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
You're motivated to achieve and are on the right track to success. Pleasurable interests are highlighted. In general, creative work goes well.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
You could experience some envy on the job. Try to stay away from superficial types who could waste your time. Be sincere in what you have to say.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
You come up with ways to improve income and status. Common sense is your ally in all you undertake. Group meetings and get-togethers with friends are favored.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)
There could be some loose ends to tie up. Sound judgment marks your approach to career matters. The evening favors get-togethers with friends and loved ones.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)
Try to keep expenses down if traveling. Extra energy puts you in the driver's seat where career interests are concerned. A meeting with an adviser is helpful after dark.

PISCES

(Feb. 19 to March 20)
You come up with some important new business ideas. Talks with higher-ups and clients are favored. Social activity is a must for you once the sun sets.

YOU BORN TODAY tend toward the dramatic, no matter how trivial a situation might be. You are prone to hyperbole, leading others to doubt your word at every turn. Your creative nature is free to take wing, and you are a marvelous storyteller, able to translate your flights of fancy into wonderful literature. Fiction is your strongest suit, and you aspire to write novels. You marry later in life, and your union is bound to last.

Birthdate of: Bill Gates, entrepreneur; Julia Roberts, actress; Daphne Zuniga, actress.
