Over 2,000 visitors are expected each night to witness scenes like this.

Haunted: Maze room

"It's completely dark," Hample said. "It's confusing because you go through the thing holding hands in groups of 10 or 20."

The haunted house has been a long-standing tradition in Eugene, Hample added.

"I was born and raised in Eugene and when I was in 5th or 6th grade, I remember going to 'Scream in the Dark,' and now I'm 36 years old," he said.

Hample expects over 2,000 visitors to the haunted house every night it is open, with the largest crowd coming in on Halloween night. "Get there early because between 8 and 10 p.m. is the busiest time," he said.

However, haunted house visitors should not despair if they are stuck in a long line.

"As you wait in line, we have some things going on to entertain people," Hample said. "We have old, spooky movies playing, like black-and-white Frankenstein and Dracula movies."

Actors in monster costumes will also roam through the crowd. "Every once in a while, we'll turn on the disco ball and crank up the music for a monster dance," he said.

Once in the haunted house maze, it takes about 15 to 20 minutes to get all the way through.

Tonight the haunted house will be open from 7 p.m. to midnight. Saturday night the house will be open from 7 to 10 p.m.
