Conservation group to give presentation

Predator Project, a Bozeman, Montana-based conservation group, will give a slide presentation on the natural history and ecology of the lynx, wolverine, fisher and marten on Dec. 4 at 7 p.m. in Room 125 of Grayson Hall. The group has recently joined other conservation groups in filing a lawsuit against the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for failing to protect the lynx under the Endangered Species Act. David Gaillard, Predator Project's forest carnivore coordinator, will answer questions at the end of the 40-minute show. For more information contact Gaillard at (406) 587-3389.

Traffic fines double within school zones

The City of Eugene wants drivers to know fines in Eugene will double for motorists receiving traffic citations in school zones effective today. All traffic infractions in school zones are covered under the new fine schedule, including but not limited to a $178 ticket for speeding up to 10 mph over the posted limit, $230 for failing to stop at a stop sign, and $1,260 for passing a school bus stopped with its lights flashing. The Oregon Legislature enacted the higher fines earlier this year. The Eugene Public Works Department finished installing signs in all school zones in the city of Eugene last week.
