Men: Ducks outrebound UCLA 31-23

passed back to Davis for the go-ahead layup.

With the clock running, Oregon raced down court, got the ball inside to Jonathon Nelson, who threw up a shot that rattled off the rim, and Toby Bailey grabbed the rebound as time expired.

"This team grew some tonight," Oregon head coach Ernie Kent said. "The more these guys play, the more they are going to get better. Be it a win or a loss, it is a learning experience for us."

"Once we got down, we couldn't get any further, so it was either grow up and play or go home. They decided to grow up and play."

A.D. Smith came off the bench to lead the comeback attempt for the Ducks, scoring a career-high 23 points on nine of 10 shooting, including all three attempts from three-point range. Henry Madden scored 14 with six rebounds, and Rosemond had his best game as a Duck, scoring eight points with four assists in 29 minutes off the bench.

Oregon dropped to 6-7 overall and 1-3 in the Pacific-10 Conference. The Ducks head home after losing to Southern California and UCLA by a combined six points.

The Bruins, who had four players in double-digit scoring led by Kris Johnson's 18, improved to 12-2 and 3-1.

Oregon started the second half down by 19 after Bailey quickly scored three points.

But using patience, defense and taking quality shots on offense, the Ducks outscored the Bruins 31-14 and took the lead on Madden's three-pointer from the top of the key to put Oregon up 59-58 with 6:03 remaining.

The lead exchanged hands two times before UCLA tied it at 64 on J.R. Henderson's jumper, giving Oregon the ball with 1:03 left.

The Ducks called timeout with 53 seconds on the clock to set up a play.

"We wanted to go to A.D. out on the wing," Kent said. "But they did a nice job jumping out and denying that and Yasir got a little frustrated and lost the ball."

For the Bruins, they avoided what could have been an embarrassing home loss early in the Pac-10 season.

"We had problems with concentration when we had big leads," UCLA head coach Steve Lavin said. "When you have to put somebody away, you can't give them second life like we did."

Initially, the Ducks looked completely outclassed by the Bruins, who exploded to a 16-0 lead three minutes into the game and led 23-3 when an official timeout was called at the 11:41 mark.

But Oregon followed the break with an 16-5 run, capped by Madden's free-throw to convert a three-point play that brought Oregon within nine. UCLA, though, responded with a 16-9 run of its own to end the first half leading 44-28.

"[UCLA] came out so fired up, and they got after us and extended the floor," Kent said. "They had us rattled and knocked us on our heels. But UCLA plays in spurts. I told them we just needed to get back to our game plan of good, solid, smart basketball at both ends of the floor."

Oregon outrebounded the Bruins 31-23, including nine for Jamar Curry, tying a career high. The Ducks also responded to Thursday's dismal shooting performance at USC, in which they made only 32 percent of their baskets, by shooting 51.9 percent on Saturday.

UCLA's highly touted freshmen starters Davis and Watson lived up to their billing. Davis was the catalyst in the Bruins' quick start and had eight points, eight assists and four steals in the game. Watson had four points and five rebounds.
