

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Allen misinformed

I commend you for bringing attention to the HIV/AIDS crisis. I see that your intentions were good, but I'm afraid you have done a great deal of damage by spreading deadly misinformation. Not only was I grossly misquoted, but the author of the opinion column (ODE, May 29), Jonas Allen, did not even have a basic knowledge of HIV testing procedures.

In the future, please do your research before taking on the role of an HIV/AIDS activist. At your request, I gave two additional sources/contact names (and looked up their phone numbers); one at Lane County Public Health and another at the HIV Alliance. If you had truly been interested in accurate information, it seems that you would have made these contacts.

Feel free to come into White Bird clinic for HIV testing. We will be happy to fill you in on the accurate facts.

Gina Tormohlen
HIV Counselor

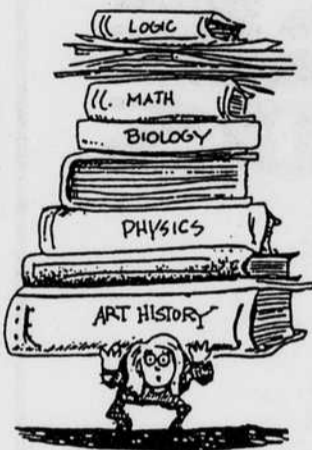

Editor's note: Please see note accompanying Letters to the Editor (ODE, June 5). Additionally, Allen states that he attempted to contact both sources mentioned by Tormohlen.
