

Allard and Casey Safety Library Donation

This summer, Mr. and Mrs. Casey visited the memorial library created by the Outdoor Program and the ASUO after the death of their son Michael Casey and Frank Allard on the North Sister in 1995. Impressed with the substance and popularity of the library as an effective and free safety tool for students, the Caseys wrote a $3,000 check for purchasing and replacing equipment. This generous donation, along with our usual aggressive pitch for donations from manufacturers, will be a huge help in keeping the library modern and complete. For more information on the Allard and Casey Memorial Safety Library, please see the preceding page!

O.P. History Project

At last the long awaited O.P. History Project is complete, celebrating the oldest co-operative college program in the country. In order to preserve the memory of outstanding traditions, faces and events in our colorful past, we have created a "History of the Outdoor Program" display located in the resource room. It's great fun to flip through, especially for those with some history of their own here at the co-op. Check it out!

Gary Grimm, the first director of the O.P. is either trying to start a fire or play in a jug band.

New Toys!

Last spring we announced the exciting addition of a new 14 ft. gear raft and frame. Well, we got even more fun new toys for the co-op. We replaced all of the river hardshell kayaks. The new fleet now consists of: Wavesport Godzilla, Dagger Vertigo, Dagger RPM and the just produced Redline.

Sea kayakers will be happy to know that we added two Necky Narpa sea kayaks. The Narpas are larger and sportier than the older Kyooks. We also purchased new paddle jackets for the river program.

In the transportation area, we wanted to purchase a new covered securable trailer but couldn't decide on a small one for backpacks and ski gear, or a large one for river trips or bigger expeditions. So we got both! The small trailer will also be rigged with a roof rack for bikes, hardshells or other toys.

Rogue River Cleanup Contribution

This spring the O.P. was awarded a $3,000 grant to help fund our annual clean-up effort on the Rogue. Thanks to Powerbar Inc. for their support of our program and a pristine environment.

This year's cleanup was a huge effort and a damn good time. Volunteers dug and drug a record 129 tires off the banks! Over 70 bags of garbage were also collected. Although getting garbage off such a magnificent river is fun, it's also troubling that we find more rubbish every year.
