News briefs

'Many Peoples' event to feature band, booths

The Groove Juice Special will play the EMU Amphitheater tonight from 5 to 8 p.m. at the "Many Peoples Under One Groove" celebration. The nine-member band will play funk and soul music.

"They're really great, they're fun and it's a unique opportunity for all unions and every student group under the MCC to show who they are," said Angela Favero, director of the Jewish Student Union.

The program was organized by several student unions, including the Jewish Student Union, Black Student Union, Asian/Pacific-American Student Union, Native American Student Union, International Student Union, MEChA, LGBTA and the Women's Center. Representatives from the student organizations will be available to answer questions and hand out information.

"It's a great time for all students — new students and old students — to come out, hang out, dance and really get to know everyone that's involved," Favero said.

Buzz Cafe seeks artwork for display

The Buzz Cafe is seeking artwork from students. The exhibit will be held Oct. 25 to Nov. 20. Artwork must be framed and matted. For details, contact Stacy Vickery at the Cultural Forum at 346-0007. For future shows, write to the assistant visual arts coordinator at the Cultural Forum, EMU, University of Oregon, Eugene, OR 97403-1228, or fax 346-4400.

Rain forest slide show highlights Canada trip

Eugene resident Brett Cole will share slides and stories from a visit this summer to the Great Bear Rainforest of British Columbia, a wilderness area the size of Switzerland that is being clear-cut by several large timber companies.

This slide show will include pictures from the rain forest and from southern British Columbia. Cole will also provide information about grizzly bears, salmon, First Nations struggles in the region and how to get involved.

The slide show is today, Oct. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ben Linder Room of the EMU. It is sponsored by the Survival Center.

Lane County offers flu, pneumonia shots

Lane County is offering influenza shots ($8) and pneumonia shots ($16) through Nov. 25. The shots are available from 1 to 4 p.m. Wednesdays at the Lane County Public Health Office, 135 E. 6th Ave. The office will be closed Nov. 11 for Veterans Day. The offer will last while vaccine supplies are available.

Pregnant women who are in their second or third trimester are in a high-risk category for influenza and pneumonia, along with the elderly and the young.

Medicare recipients pay for the shots at the clinic and can be reimbursed if they bring their Medicare cards. For more information, call Lane County Public Health Services at 682-4181.

Fraternity suspended from Michigan over alcohol-related death

The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — A fraternity that provided alcohol to a university freshman who fell out of a window and died has lost its campus charter.

The governing body of Phi Delta Theta voted unanimously to suspend permanently the charter of its University of Michigan chapter, Robert Biggs, executive national vice president of the fraternity said Tuesday.

University officials said Courtney Cantor, 18, had attended parties Thursday at Chi Omega sorority and at Phi Delta Theta, drinking at the fraternity party. She returned early Friday to her sixth-floor dormitory room and, according to investigators, accidentally fell through a window that opened just 12 inches wide.

The daughter of Detroit News columnist and editorial writer George Cantor was found unconscious on a concrete loading deck outside her dormitory. She died of skull and spinal fractures.

An autopsy showed Ms. Cantor's blood-alcohol level was below the state's legal definition of intoxication. But Phi Delta Theta had been ordered in 1995 by the national organization to be alcohol-free, Biggs said.

"Last week, the chapter members broke their commitment to keep their house alcohol-free," Biggs told the News in a report today. "The culture of alcohol is destructive to those values and has no place in Phi Delta Theta."
