

FRIGHTENING FOWL

TRICKS AND TREATS

Ghouls, ghosts, goblins and fright.

Black cats, tombstones and bumps in the night.

It's Halloween. The spooky night for tricks, treats and all kinds of riotous fun.

Here's a treat for you kids, a look at campus spooks when they were young.

1. Dave Frohnmayer, University president:

Although Frohnmayer said he cannot remember his costumed days of boyhood trick and treat, he said he was a quite a doozy for a recent Halloween. Frohnmayer dressed in a tuxedo, donned a fake mustache and Groucho Marx-style glasses. He draped a towel over his arm and carried an upside-down tray with champagne glasses taped to its bottom. What was this man of mystery and disguise? A dumbwaiter.

2. Mike Bellotti, University football coach:

This is ground control to Coach Bellotti. Long before Bellotti's dreams of coaching college football and teaching quarterbacks to launch the old pigskin, he dreamed of launching other flying objects. Bellotti said his favorite childhood costume was an astronaut — er, the "Buzz Lightyear" look as opposed to the "Buzz Aldrin" look.

3. Ryan Frank, editor in chief of the Oregon Daily Emerald:

The top Halloween costumes for 1998

1. Monica and Bill (note: Monica's dress is no longer available at the Gap; search those vintage stores)
2. The "South Park" kids (Who could resist?)
3. The "Scream" mask (Everyone loves a good slasher)
4. KISS (That '70s band)
5. Duck football player with bowl-game paraphernalia (It's still a possibility)
6. Aliens (An old standard)
7. The Spice Girls (With appropriate variations, e.g. Pregnant Spice)
8. The Backstreet Boys (A new twist on an old theme, e.g. New Kids on the Block)
9. Cruella DeVille (Just don't try to tote 101 puppies with you)
10. Eugene Police (When the riots break out, you'll be protected from pepper spray)

— Compiled by Amy Boytz

If you've ever wondered why Frank is always munching on Reeces Pieces, look no further. Frank's favorite costume was as E.T.

4. Tim Gleason, dean of the School of Journalism and Communication:

Arrrgh, you journalism majors! Finish your information gathering projects and swab the deck! Gleason said his fondest Halloween costume memory was when he dressed up as a sailor.

5. Geneva Wortman, ASUO president:

She was once a little green slab of clay. Wortman has a trio of past costume favorites. She has dressed as Gumby, the Tooth Fairy and the Toxic Avenger.

6. Morgan Cowling, ASUO vice president:

Cowling said it's a tossup between two costume favorites. She once wore a giant, fuzzy and floppy-eared bunny costume. She was also a gypsy.

7. Robert Melnick, dean of the School of Architecture and Allied Arts:

How 'bout them Yankees? Melnick, a native of New York, dressed as a New York Yankee. He wore the pinstripes and a wool cap to top it off.

8. Duncan McDonald, vice president for public affairs and development:

He is a long-time Cleveland Indians fan, but had no comment. Maybe next year.

9. Renard Strickland, dean of the School of Law:

Who ever said that lawyer-types are blood-suckers? Strickland's favorite Halloween was when he dressed up as Dracula.

10. Frog, street vendor:

It's a nun. It's a joint. It's a turd. No, it's not Superman. It's Frog's favorite three Halloween costumes.
