and McShane contributed 15 and 12 points, respectively, and Carson scored all five of his points on free throws.

In his regular season debut, freshman wing Freddie Jones of Gresham provided all seven of the Ducks' bench points, including an emphatic, two-handed slam to end the game.

Brown, who led the team with 12.8 points per game in 1997-98, said Oregon possesses more offensive firepower than last season.

"I think the pressure is lifted off my shoulders," Brown said. "We've got guys out there on the other wing, down low or at the point-guard position who can put the ball in the basket. I think sometimes they're the first and second options, which leaves me as the third and makes it a lot easier to get going."

After Brown hit one of his three three-pointers to give Oregon a 27-26 lead late in the first half, the Ducks never trailed again. Spurred by another three-pointer from Brown and two more threes from Scales, Oregon closed the first half with a 16-2 run to take a 40-28 lead into the intermission.

The closest Coppin State got to the Ducks in the second half was 55-50 on the strength of an 8-0 run during which Oregon went scoreless for more than four minutes.

However, the Ducks sealed the game's outcome with a barrage of free throws. In the second half, Oregon made 18 of 26 free throws, and it was 22 of 30 for the game. Smith, who led the team with an 81.4 free-throw percentage last season, was a perfect 11 for 11 from the line.

In keeping with a reoccurring theme from last season, three-point field goals were the Ducks' scoring option of choice. Half of Oregon's 22 field goals were threes and 28 of its 48 shot attempts came from beyond the arc.

"We've got maybe seven or eight guys who can really step out and shoot the three," said Smith, who made both of his three-point attempts. "That's a weapon when you've got three of four guys on the floor who can shoot the ball, and it should open up the inside for us."

The Eagles shot just .356 from the field and .296 on three-point attempts. Oregon out rebounded Coppin State 37-28 and had 18 assists to the Eagles' six.

"We've got maybe seven or eight guys who can really step out and shoot the three. That's a weapon when you've got three of four guys on the floor who can shoot the ball."
