

Budgets OKed for EMU and finance committees

Some won, some lost in lengthy Student Senate funding deliberations

The Student Senate meeting Wednesday night was like "Titanic" without Kate Winslet — long.

After meeting for more than three hours, the senators agreed on a budget for the EMU, Athletic Department Finance Committee and the Programs Finance Committee. Also, the Academic Council spoke on the proposed new add/drop period.

The EMU budget was approved for $2,584,499, which is funded from student incidental fees. Its benchmark was set at 3 percent but the actual increase is only 2.63 percent, $66,312. The decrease from the benchmark was a result, in part, of maximizing student work study in lieu of staff salaries, said Campbell Kidd, budget chairman of the EMU Board.

Once the budget was presented, the first item discussed was a new grant of $200 for 10 student groups to pay for technical services when using the EMU Ballroom. A $2,000 total to be shared between all the groups or funding for the first 10 student groups was proposed. At first, the Senate voted 9-to-6 to remove the grant, suggesting the Senate control this fee, but after more discussion the Senate reversed its decision.

Also, the reduction of $2,300 in funds from an administrative fund was discussed but ultimately voted down. The fund, under control of EMU Director Dusty Miller, was used this fiscal year for employee training and name tags for EMU employees, among other things.

"There are going to be emergencies. I have the freedom to spend the money as needed, but I have an obligation to report the funds," Miller said in response to questions about the administrative funds.

The Programs Finance Committee budget of $2,033,601 was also approved. The PFC had set a benchmark of 2 percent, but the budget was actually increased by nearly 5 percent. PFC Chairman Dan Reid justified the missed benchmark because of increases in the price of childcare for students, conferences presented by campus groups and a professional staff increase. Of more than 90 groups that the PFC reviews, Reid said it decreased or maintained at present level the budgets of 46 groups.

The Athletic Department Finance Committee received its proposed budget of $1,075,278. In a memo distributed at the meeting, the ADFC stated it felt this budget was acceptable because this is the amount they have received for the last two fiscal years.

In other business, the Academic Council mentioned its move to discuss increasing the add/drop period at the next University Senate meeting.
