Ems

test the Ems, scoring three runs in the fifth.

Behind rightfielder Jeff Ryan's two-RBI triple, Eugene answered with five runs of its own in the bottom of the fifth, taking a four-run lead that it wouldn't relinquish.

"I'm just trying to take it day-to-day," said Ryan, who has just recently recovered from a thumb injury. "I'm trying to get some good hacks on the ball, and every at bat is going to help. I'm getting more comfortable."

Ken Conroy picked up the win for the Ems, improving his record to 2-0.

Conroy pitched five innings and gave up 10 hits.

"He's got three good pitches," Sheaffer said.

"He should be able to get into the sixth or seventh inning, but we had him on a pitch count."

Sheaffer

"We're gonna be fine; it's early," Sheaffer said. "It might have been good for us to start off like this. If you're taught at a young age to deal with adversity, it can only help you down the road."

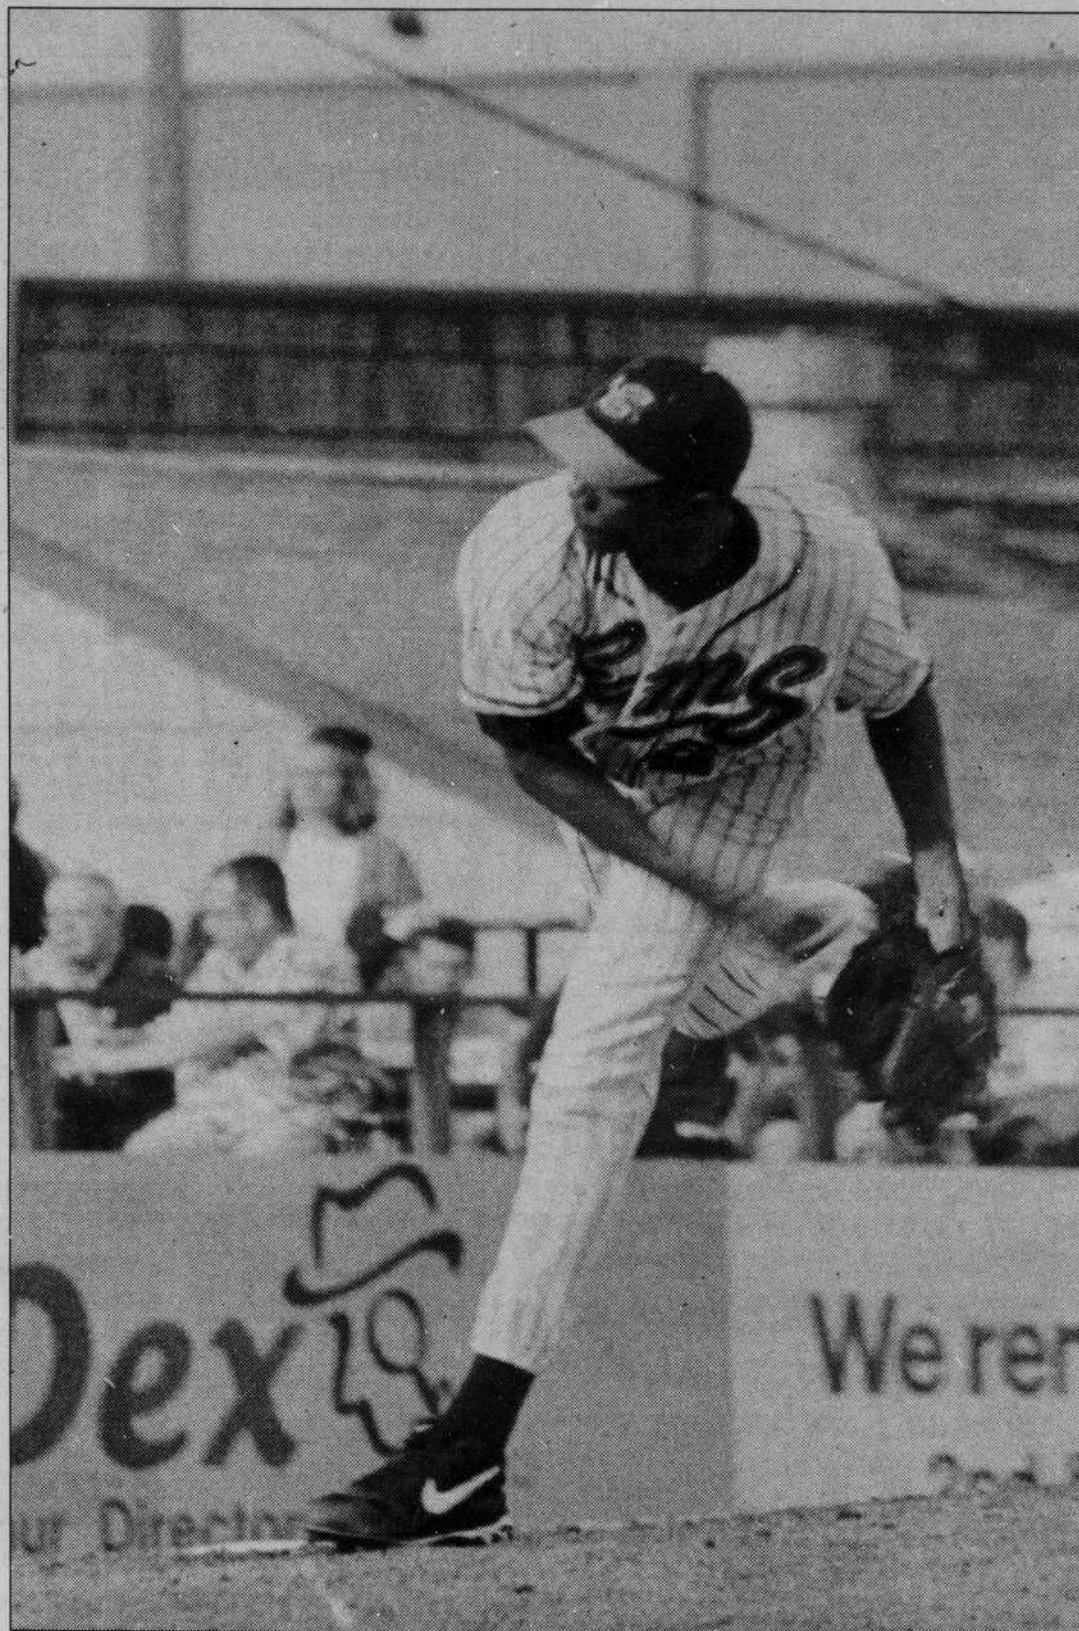

Down the road for Eugene is the remaining 58 games on its short-season schedule. After last season's 24-52 and last-place finish, the Ems had renewed hopes following the switch in major-league affiliations from the Atlanta Braves to the Chicago Cubs. The off-season addition of Sheaffer, who had been in spring training with the Cubs, only brought more enthusiasm.

But even with all the new elements — players included — Eugene showed it still had much to learn by starting the season 0-6. Following a streak of five wins in their next six games, the Ems reverted to losing form with the five consecutive losses before Monday's victory.

Still, Sheaffer insisted better things are forthcoming for Eugene.

"If we catch the ball, we will win ballgames," Sheaffer said. "It's only gonna get better."

With that long of a career, one thing is certain — Sheaffer has seen better days.

Juan Cruz, the youngest member of the Ems, comes within one run of recording his second consecutive win Sunday.
