

Freshman Seminars

WINTER 2000

ANTH 170	Introduction to Human Evolution	P. Simonds
ANTH 199	Health and Healing in Southeast Asia	G. Moreno
ART 199	Liberating the Page	M. O'Connell
BI 199	Sports Nutrition and Human Physiology	P. Lombardi
CH 199	Nuclear Choices, Nuclear Decisions	D. Exton
ENG 199	Science Fiction: A New Mythology?	M. McBride
HIST 199	The Death Penalty	R. McGowen
INTL 199	Australia Through Autobiography	J. Bennett
MUS 199	Cultural Heritage of American Folksongs	R. Moore
PS 199	Theories of Leadership	D. Frohnmayer
SPAN 199	Identity, Community & The Writer in US Latino/a Literature	A. Gladhart
TA 199	Clothing and Culture	A. Bonds

UNIQUE COURSES DESIGNED TO INTRODUCE SMALL GROUPS OF FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS TO A THOUGHT-PROVOKING, CHALLENGING, AND INTERESTING TOPIC WHILE DEVELOPING STUDENTS' ACADEMIC SKILLS.

For more information, see page 76 in the Winter UO Schedule of Classes.

FRESHMAN SEMINARS

372 Oregon Hall • University of Oregon • 346-1136
freshsem@oregon.uoregon.edu
<http://osrp.uoregon.edu/lc>

An equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution committed to cultural diversity and compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Basketball

Continued from Page 7

senior co-captain made three of his five field-goal attempts — all three-pointers — and dished three assists against no turnovers during the definitive second half.

"It was hard for us to get our transition going," Wright said. "In the second half, we came out more aggressive."

"We didn't play well. But we got the win, so that's good."

Led by Wright's improved play, the Ducks looked much sharper handling the ball in the second half. On several occasions, Oregon whipped the ball around the perimeter and found an open man or drove to the hoop, drew Portland defenders and then passed inside for easy opportunities.

Jackson in particular began to drive and dish. The 6-3, 210-pound Portland native got five of his game-high six assists after the break, none prettier than when he elevated in the middle of the lane, faked at least three different directions and found forward Bryan Bracey on the baseline for a reverse layup with 4:35 left.

Speaking of Bracey, the 6-7,

210-pound junior college transfer continued to impress. Displaying smooth moves and a soft touch, Bracey connected on five-of-six field-goal attempts and scored 12 points while also securing four rebounds.

KENT

But none of the Ducks were in moods to celebrate individual performances or the team's overall win after the game. Bracey was at a loss to explain Oregon's apparent lack of energy in the first half, but he did definitely notice that something was amiss.

"That's three games in a row where we've gotten off to terrible starts at home," said Bracey, taking into account the two lackluster exhibition victories.

After their first-half shooting woes, the Ducks did convert 14-of-25 field goals in the second half to finish at 47 percent from the field. Jones' game-high 11 rebounds led Oregon to a 40-30 rebounding edge over the Pilots.

Struggles

Continued from Page 7

hand were clearly getting frustrated with the lackluster play.

One fan could even be heard yelling, "I've seen better high school games than this!"

The Ducks further encouraged such talk when Scales, Jackson and Wright all raced to the hoop on a three-on-one break. When the ball reached Jackson's hands, he fumbled it, and Portland's Kevin Woodberry recovered and drained a three-pointer on the other end of the floor.

"We still try to make that home-run play all the time," Wright said. "We just have got to learn to take care of the easy play."

When asked if the pressure of winning was getting to the team, Wright quickly responded.

"That would be a cop-out if we said we were feeling pressure from what other people are saying," Wright said. "We're tougher on ourselves than anybody."

And with that, the dance has now begun for the Ducks, albeit at a slower pace than expected.

CASH FOR YOUR BOOKS!

BRING IN BOOKS NEEDED FOR UPCOMING TERMS AND WE'LL PAY YOU 60% OF THE CURRENT STUDENT PRICE.

MAIN STORE

• DECEMBER 1-11
regular store hours

EMU LOBBY

• DECEMBER 6-9
8:30 am-5:00pm

• DECEMBER 10
8:30am-4:00

WIN $20 CASH!

If you are selling books where the alarm clock rings! No tricks!

PRIZES PROVIDED BY
NEBRASKA BOOK COMPANY

UNIVERSITY of OREGON
BOOKSTORE

RECYCLE THIS PAPER

$1 off dinner with coupon.
Includes all-you-can-eat buffet.
with drink.

1401 Villard St.,
Near UO and Hiron
342-3222

Exp. 12/31/99.

Support recycling,
help the environment

CHOOSE ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY TREE FREE/RECYCLED
PAPERS

For your copy & printing needs

Now available at Campus Copy (346-4396)
(in the EMU basement next to The Break)
& at the UO Department of Printing (346-3794).

Say NO to neon, heavily dyed &
Goldenrod papers, they contaminate the recycling process & the environment.

Sponsored by the University of Oregon
Environmental Issues Committee