■ Oregon jumps out to a 21-4 lead to cruise to an easy 67-49, Pac-10 opening win

CORVALLIS — Consider revenge taken.

And tack on an exclamation point.

In winning its 12th Civil War in the last 13 meetings Saturday night, the Oregon men's basketball team not only exacted payback for last season's ugly loss at Oregon State and began the Pacific-10 Conference season on the right note.

The Ducks (10-2 overall, 1-0 Pac-10) also made a statement with a 67-49 victory that wasn't even as close as the final score indicates.

"We're a very good basketball team that is just starting to come together," said head coach Ernie Kent, who improved to 4-1 in his coaching career against the Beavers (8-4, 0-1). "For 40 minutes, it was one of the better basketball games that my program has played in terms of the mental aspect since I've been here."

Spurred by two three-pointers from sophomore guard Freddie Jones, Oregon put eight points on the board before Oregon State scored its first basket. And another three by Jones, along with treys from senior point guard Darius Wright and senior forward A.D. Smith, gave the Ducks a 21-4 lead about nine minutes into what was supposed to be a close, hotly-contested battle.

Vikings, Clan no match for aggressive Ducks

KEARNEY

■ Oregon wrestling took a step forward last weekend with wins over two rivals

By Brett Williams
Oregon Daily Emerald

December was not an easy month for Oregon wrestling. After going head-to-head with some of the best wrestling programs in the nation, Oregon welcomed matches last weekend against Portland State and Simon Fraser.

The end result was the Ducks' domination against both squads, first in a 31-6 victory against the Vikings on Saturday and then in a 50-3 rout over the Clan on Sunday at McArthur Court.

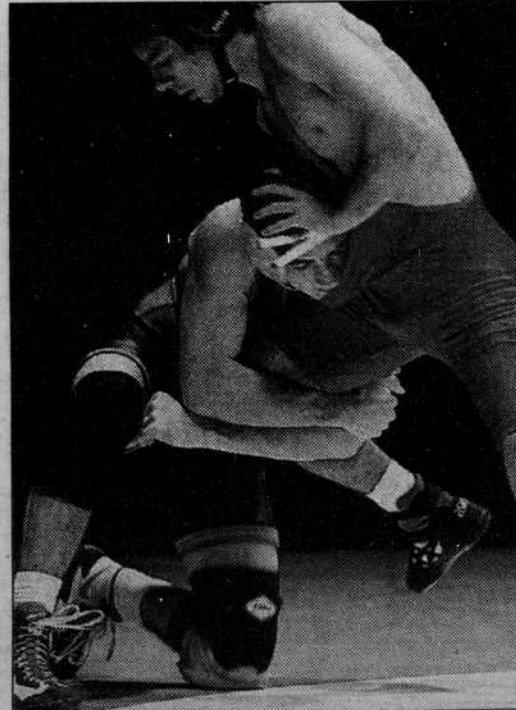

Oregon head coach Chuck Kearney said he was happy about the direction that he sees his program going following the two impressive wins last weekend.

"I feel good about how we played this weekend," said Kearney in his second season as head coach. "We went out aggressive and went for the fall. Sometimes after a month like last month, we need a weekend like this to give us confidence. This also gave our young wrestlers a chance to dominate."

Simon Fraser simply didn't have the talent to score points against the Ducks. After the first six matches, Oregon had pinned four Clan wrestlers and won two matches by forfeit to take a commanding 36-0 lead.

Eugene Harris added to the lead in an 8-3 decision over Simon Fraser's Jeremy Andrew and Leif Williams won in a technical fall before the Clan scored its first points. Then Oregon added six more points when Doug Lee pinned James Messenger for the final score.
