

Are you preoccupied with food?

Does worrying about how you look take up a lot of your time?

Concerns about eating and body image are common among college students. If you're concerned about the role food and weight plays in your life, help is available. The University Counseling Center is offering an Eating Awareness Group. Screening can be arranged by calling Ryan Smith 346-2715. The group will address issues of body dissatisfaction, eating too much or too little, assertiveness, exercise, and nutrition.

Make it Happen!

UNIVERSITY HEALTH CENTER
We're a matter of degrees

Ducks humbled in Civil War loss

■ OSU claims in-state supremacy in Oregon's 24-13 loss at Macr Court

By Brett Williams
Oregon Daily Emerald

In last season's Civil War losses the Oregon wrestling team felt it was robbed. This year the Ducks were simply outmatched.

Oregon had multiple forfeits which left them on the losing end against the Beavers twice last season, but Oregon partook in every match in Oregon State's 24-13 Civil War victory Friday night.

There were other differences in this year's match as well. The Ducks' lineup was dominated by youth, with only two of Oregon's 10 wrestlers having any prior Civil War experience.

According to Oregon head coach Chuck Kearney, the Ducks' lack of experience hurt them throughout the match.

"In a situation like this, the little things show up throughout the match," Kearney said.

Jason Harless was one Oregon wrestler who had a breakthrough match. Harless, a true freshman from Bonanza, made the most of his first Civil War, beating Oregon State's Nathan Navarro 5-3 to start a Duck rally.

"My main goal was to go out there with the mental attitude that I wasn't going to take into consideration who I was wrestling," said Harless, who was a three-time Oregon state champion in high school. "I thought of him as just another guy out there wrestling."

Kearney was impressed with

Harless' composure.

"Jason wrestled against a third-year college kid who is nationally ranked," Kearney said. "That was fantastic wrestling. In our minds he is the outstanding wrestler of the meet."

After Harless' win cut Oregon State's lead to 10-6, the Ducks' Brian Watson edged the Beavers' Ben

Richards 4-2 and the Ducks found themselves with a one point deficit.

"Brian wrestled like a surgeon, cutting away pieces and then battling through," Kearney said. "He did the job for us today."

His brother, David, wasn't as fortunate. David lost 6-2 at 141 pounds, but Oregon's Tony Overstake tied the meet at 13-13 after disposing of his opponent 13-3.

From there-on-out, Oregon State closed the books on any chance of a Ducks' upset. The Beavers won at 157, 165 and 174 pounds for the final margin.

Kearney said he expected Oregon's Eugene Harris to put up a better fight against the Beavers' Eric Jorgenson, who is ranked fourth in the nation and has won eighteen straight matches.

"Eugene knew [Jorgenson] was tough on top, but I was surprised he was rode dominantly," said Kearney about Harris, who was shut out 7-0. "It's typical of a junior college transfer, because he's inexperienced. Eugene should have been able to compete, but Jorgenson forced his style on him."

Spend an evening with UO Alumni Stars at Alumni Success Stories

A special evening with five UO alumni who have gone on to exceptional careers and are returning to campus to share how they achieved their success.

Thursday, January 20
6:00-7:00 p.m.
EMU Fir Room

Kristi Wise
Assistant Director of Public Relations
Portland Trail Blazers

Shana Pennington
Field Biologist
Servietta Wilderness
New Mexico

Lindsay Knaak
Account Assistant
Goldberg Moser O'Neill Advertising
San Francisco

Betty Fletcher
Managing Editor, Trade Division
Harvest Publishing
Eugene

Coe Brockmeier
Regional Manager
Enterprise Rent-A-Car
Vancouver, Washington

Sponsored by:
The UO Career Center, the UO American Marketing Association,
Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity and Gamma Phi Beta Sorority.

Part of 2000 Career Expo and Winter Career Fair events.

All Ways Travel

• Winter Specials •
New York	- $198.00*
Bangkok	- $558.00*
Nadi, Fiji	- $599.00*
Auckland	- $699.00*

*tax not included, restrictions may apply. Subject to change without notice.

Check out our Student fares!

E-mail: awt@luv2travel.com

1200 High St.

338-4199

Student Travel Experts

oregon daily emerald worldwide

www.

dailylemerald.com

the dreamer examines his pillow
by jim patrick stanley

UTBox Office 346-4191
EMU Tickets 346-4363
Hall Center 682-5000
arena theatre 8pm

january 19-22 and 27-29, 2000

Office of Student Advocacy

We are an ASUO program advocating for students' rights on campus. OSA offers free professional service to registered students who need help with campus-related matters, including:

- student conduct code charges
- sexual harassment
- discrimination
- University Housing
- academic disputes
- financial aid
- faculty misconduct
- public safety
- business affairs
- university employment

CALL 346-3722 or stop by Room 334 EMU to set up an appointment.