

I want to dance

Black History Month

Bill T. Jones and Susan Kunklin believe that dance is important for all people, particularly for children. Children need to know that their bodies are wonderful instruments that can bring joy to themselves and to others—movement is good for us.

This beautiful children's book, filled with photographs of the internationally acclaimed dancer, expresses this sentiment on every page. [Hyperion Books for Children. 14.95]

Bill T. Jones

Bill T. Jones is the artistic director of the Bill T. Jones/Amie Zane Dance Company, and one of the greatest living solo dancers. He has received many honors and awards, including The MacArthur "genius" Fellowship in 1994. In addition to creating over fifty works for his own company, Mr. Jones has been commissioned to create dances for modern and ballet companies including Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, Boston Ballet, and Berlin Opera Ballet among others.
