Ducks face top competition

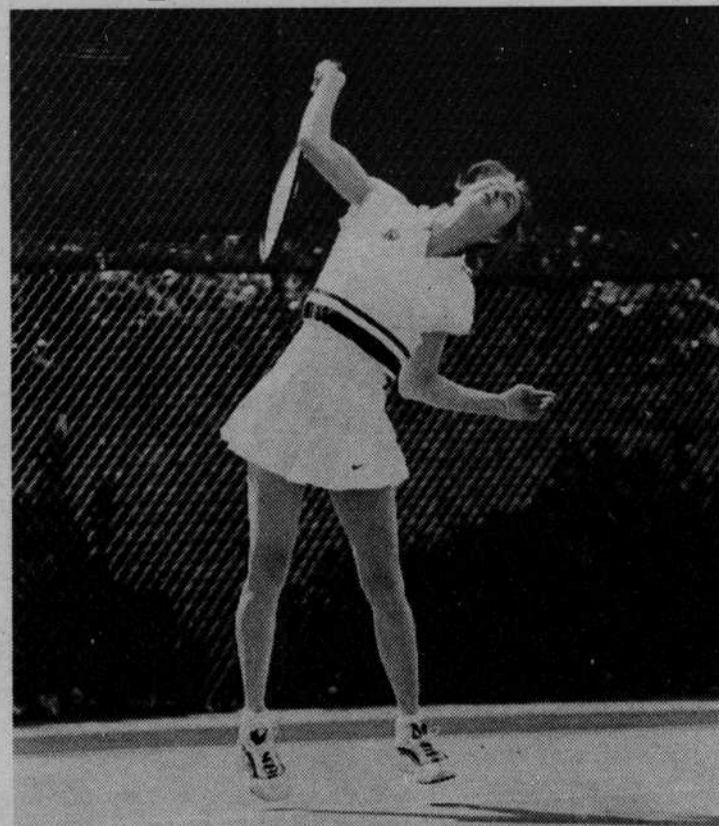

■ Both the Oregon men's and women's tennis teams are in action this weekend

By Robbie McCallum
for the Emerald

So far, this 1999-0200 women's tennis season has been highlighted by extremes.

The Ducks began the season with two losses against two of the top teams in the nation. They then followed with dominating wins against two weaker opponents.

And the season continues this weekend when the Los Angeles schools come to town.

Sarah Colistro and the Ducks hope to take advantage of playing at home, because they certainly have their work cut out for them against No. 6 UCLA and No. 12 USC.

Who: No. 6 UCLA vs. Oregon
When: 1:30 p.m.
Where: Willow Creek

Oregon is continuing a month-long homestand. The Ducks are looking to even their Pacific-10 conference record, which currently stands at 0-2.

Oregon faces No. 8 UCLA today 1:30 p.m. at the Willow Creek Racquet Club. The Bruins (3-1, Pac-10) are led by 66th-ranked Sarah Walker and 85th-ranked Anica Cooper. Walker and Petya Martin are ranked 19th in doubles competition.

The Ducks take on USC tomorrow at the Eugene Swim and Tennis Club at noon. The No. 12 Trojans are 5-1 and fourth-ranked Jewell Peterson shares the top position with Kara Woretin.

Oregon head coach Jack Griffin is optimistic about this weekend's contests. "Obviously UCLA and USC are both solid teams," Griffin said. "Both ranked among the top in the country. If we want to be a top-20 team, we've got to face these teams."

Both L.A. schools faced No. 31 Arizona last week and had mixed results. USC dominated the Wildcats, 9-0, while handing higher-ranked UCLA its first loss, 5-4.

"Arizona is No. 31 in the country and they upset UCLA, so we're in a position that we can upset these teams," Griffin said. "Our concern is that we can execute and play our best."

The Oregon men's tennis team is also in action this weekend. The Ducks travel to Malibu, Calif. to take on 8th-ranked Pepperdine. The Waves are 6-0 this season with impressive wins over UCLA and Hawaii. Veterans John Hui and Anthony Ross lead the defending Big West champions. Ross and Sebastian Graeff are the third-ranked doubles team in the nation.

The Ducks warmed up for the Pepperdine match by dismantling Portland on Wednesday in Portland. Oregon swept the Pilots 7-0, winning all singles and doubles matches.

"The guys played well tonight," said men's head coach Chris Russell. "They really asserted themselves in a way that showed we're the better team. You could see they really felt confident on the court."

Softball brief

Softball gets started
After reaching the NCAA Regionals for the second straight year in 1999, the Oregon softball team (40-28 overall last season) gets back in action this weekend at the Texas-Arlington/Isuzu Motors Invitational in Grand Prairie, Texas. The Ducks start play today against Tulsa, Bethune-Cookman and Southwest Texas.

This weekend's play marks the first step in Oregon's quest to reach the College World Series at the end of May.

The Ducks are coming off a historically successful season last year.

Ten records were broken, as were one career record, six individual single-season records — including Katie Mackey's new single-season home run record of 14 — and three team single-season records.
