

may disagree with a few of them. We must not allow this! I want to keep campus striving for increased diversity and to increase democratic participation by students in University policy. It is my goal to keep this campus diverse, active, and politically aware.

Senate Seat #7, 1 year, Athletic Department Finance Senator

Kate Kranzush

The incidental fees paid to the University of Oregon every year by students is distributed to over 100 subsidiary groups throughout campus. ASUO and the Student Senate are responsible for dispersing this money. I am currently Treasurer of the Residence Hall Association, and I am learning how this money is allocated. If I am elected a position on the Athletic Department Finance Committee, I will work with the other Finance Committees to reach a fair allocation of these incidental fees, without compromising student interests. I am dependable, hard working, dedicated, and knowledgeable in this area. Vote for Kate Kranzush for Athletic Department Finance Senator. Thank you.

Jeff Oliver

Sporting events play a vital role in the social community of the university. When you have lines forming at eight in the morning for basketball or football tickets, and then lines forming hours before game time, you know the Athletic Department Finance Committee (ADFC) is dealing with issues important to many students. It should be a goal of the ADFC to not only improve the availability of student tickets, but to also improve the seating situations. We should explore the possibility of reserved seating for students and a system that would allow a number of students to purchase season tickets. At the same time though we must maintain and improve the atmosphere our athletic teams enjoy. I feel that all these goals are feasible and can eventually become reality. Vote for Jeff Oliver — Athletic Department Finance Senator Seat 7.

Senate Seat #8, 2 year, Athletic Department Finance Senator

Jennifer Greenough

My name is Jennifer Greenough and I am a running for Senate Seat #8 on the Athletic Department Finance Committee. I have served on the Student Senate since last May on this committee and I would like to continue to serve students in this capacity.

As the only potential returning member of the ADFC, I would like to continue working on projects that we began this year. These include ticket swaps, disseminating information about policies, and publishing the informational brochure.

In addition to those duties, I want to continue advocating for fiscal responsibility. The Student Senate allocates several million dollars annually, and I believe Senators have a responsibility to account for every cent. I plan to continue working with various programs to assist them in fundraising for projects.

There are a variety of issues and projects I am interested in and intend to work on. I believe it is essential that Senators receive more feedback from students. I would like to hold frequent open forums/town hall meetings which provide an opportunity for students to voice their opinions.

Remember to vote for someone who will advocate for students! Email me with questions or comments at jl15406@gladstone.uoregon.edu

Senate Seat #9, 1 year, midterm, Athletic Department Finance Senator

William Beutler

The Student Senate does not spend Monopoly money. They spend yours.

Every year, the same egos clash and obscure the fee-allocation process. Every year the same rules are broken by the same resume padders and 3PM majors.

One problem is a lack of continuity and knowledge about the Senate's purpose: hopeful senators unfamiliar with the ASUO's past are doomed to repeat the mistakes of their predecessors. I've been following the ASUO from an outside perspective for the past few years, I've read the Green Tape Notebook, and I understand the nature of the beast.

Every year, the Senate turns over $1,075,278 to a University department that rarely acts in the student interest: the Athletic Department. The Athletic Department Finance Committee is one of the few checks the student body has on the University, since we give them our money.

Phrases like "accountability" and "fiscal responsibility" are thrown around by candidates who once elected have a hard time following the rules, or even determining what they are.

I have no political aspirations and represent no special interests. I just want to make sure your money is spent both wisely and correctly.

Vote William Beutler for Senate ADFC seat #9.

Gregory J. Zimel

Hello, fellow voters, my name is Greg Zimel and I am interested in working with the Athletic department on making sure that the students are not manipulated by incidental fees for athletic event tickets. As you know, I am the University of Oregon Barrelman. You might have seen me at football and basketball events. My ticket, as well as yours, should not go up so much in price, that we cannot afford to see our victorious Ducks at Autzen and Mac Court. I will also make sure that the students can keep their seats, and not let the Athletic Department sell them away for financial purposes. The students have a big voice for their sport's teams, and I will make sure that the voice stays poignant during my term. Take it from me, one of the most eccentric fans of them all. If elected, I will serve to the best of my ability to make sure your buck go the distance when rooting for the Ducks. Thank you, and God Bless the University of Oregon and their faithful fans.
