Teamwork pays off for the Oregon women, who pulled together to survive a physical Civil War game on Friday.

Women's season highlights

The Ducks prevailed in the Civil War to win their second-straight Pac-10 title, their first-ever outright title. Oregon hosts the NCAA tournament for the second time in its history, starting with UAB on Friday.

Pac-10 Player of the Year: Shaquala Williams earned the honor after being named last season's Pac-10 freshman of the year. She averaged 17.7 points per game.

Wolvert scores All-Conference: Consistency and hard work earned forward Angelina Wolvert the first All-Conference honors of her career. Wolvert was the Ducks' most steady scorer, hitting 58.5 percent from the floor.

Men's season highlights

The Ducks finished with their most Pac-10 wins (13) of all time. Their 22-win total was the most wins in a single season since 1945 and ensured the Ducks of only their second NCA A Tournament appearance since 1961.

Scales earns First-Team All-Pac 10: The senior forward wowed crowds across the league with his high-flying act. He finished fourth in the conference in scoring (16.3 ppg), helping him achieve All-Conference honors for the first time.

The other Coach "K": Head coach Ernie Kent continued his immediate success, bringing the Ducks to the post-season for the second time in three years.
