

One of the more dependable things in life.

Aren't you glad that you can always depend on a Chevy™ Cavalier®? A car so dependable there are more of them out there working than any other small car.* But that's no surprise. Cavalier has dependable features such as battery-rundown protection. You can also rely on awesome extras like standard antilock brakes and air conditioning. Next to your roommate leaving her towels on the floor, there are few things you can depend on more.
