pitchers with another dinger each in the game against No. 8 California on Friday.

“We knew it was a matter of time before our offense came around,” Gamez said. “We have too much power for [a slump] to go on for long. We just needed that little spark and it was contagious. It just trickled on down the lineup for us.”

The Wahine will most likely counter the Ducks' big bats with junior Desiree Duran, who leads Hawaii with a 1.99 ERA and 49 strikeouts. Freshman Sheri Oronezis, the probable starter in the second game, boasts a team-best 7-6 record with 83.2 innings pitched.

However, Gamez is aware that the Ducks cannot rely on only the long ball or the big inning to carry the team against the Wahine. If Oregon remains complacent at the plate, it might end up on the losing end.

“Our plan is to come out aggressive from the start,” Gamez said. “We need to focus and stay hungry and do the little things... to be successful.”
