

Cast Your Vote for Your 2000-2001 Bookstore Board

Freshman Position

1 person to be elected for a 1-year term.

Charles Holding:

My position as one of eight students on the Board of Directors for the University Bookstore would be representative of second year students. I am a second year student. I have some experience in democracy because I was involved in the youth and government program called the California Model Legislature and Court run by the YMCA. As a member on the board, I would like to see the Bookstore use books that are printed on recycled paper and free popcorn for people waiting in line.

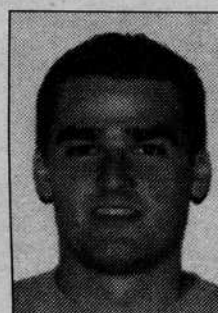

Student-at-Large Position

1 person to be elected for a 2-year term

Kenneth Best:

The University of Oregon Bookstore has a tradition of excellence, success, and dedication to the students. The responsibility of maintaining this tradition lies in the hands of the students and faculty on the Bookstore Board of Directors. Because the Bookstore is the primary source of course books, it has become an integral part of all university students lives and education. We all have our opinions about the UO Bookstore, and I want to use those opinions as constructive criticism to help improve the Bookstore, or as compliments as to what we should continue to do. This past year I have served on the Board as Vice President, but unfortunately I was only able to serve for a one-year term. I believe that one year on the Bookstore Board of Directors is not enough for someone to really understand how things work, and then use that knowledge to its potential. That is why I am seeking a second term; so that I can use the knowledge gained this year to more effectively advocate for students next year.

Cameron Clarke:

My name is Cameron Clarke. I am running for the Student-at-Large Position on the University of Oregon Bookstore Board. I heard about the Bookstore Board through a friend who served on the board in the past. He really enjoyed the knowledge and experience that he gained in making sure that the student voice was heard. The skills that I have acquired in a number of pursuits have prepared me for a position on the board. I am majoring in psychology with a minor in computer and information sciences. I spend about ten hours a week working with The International Society for Technology in Education, through the work-study program. I am also a member of the student volunteer program at PeaceHealth Medical Center. As a member of a fraternity, I have gained firsthand experience concerning the organization of a board. Through my involvement with extra-curricular activities around The U of O campus, I have many valuable qualities to offer the board. I would really appreciate it if you would give me the opportunity to voice your concerns and ideas to the Bookstore Board. Vote Cameron Clarke for The UO Bookstore Student-at Large position. Thank you very much! Cameron Clarke

Let me start by offering you my heartfelt thanks for taking the time to read what so many others, unfortunately, will choose to skip over. Now let me continue by giving you a bit of autobiographical information. My name is Jennifer Dunyon. I separated from the United States Air Force last year after having served four years as a Cryptologic Linguist. During my term of service, I attended college at night and on weekends, enabling me to earn an AA (with honors) in Foreign Language with a Korean emphasis. I also completed courses for the military-specific CCAF degree in Communications Intelligence. I enrolled at the University of Oregon last term as a transfer student majoring in Linguistics. My service and studies have reinforced my belief that efforts to improve yourself and your community are inextricably linked. We all have a responsibility to do whatever we can, large or small, to make sure that our peers have a successful and, hopefully, enjoyable time while studying at this institution. It is because of this that I have chosen to run for a seat on the Board of Directors of the University Bookstore. Elect me and I will pledge to work with other Board members to ensure that you can easily obtain the materials necessary for your course work, along with a healthy mix of supplies to help foster and show off your Duck Spirit. GO DUCKS!

Sue Ryan:

I am Sue Ryan. I am enrolled as a junior in pre-Journalism. I went to the Bookstore Annual Meeting out of curiosity and not with a plan to run for the board. I took the initiative to run as a candidate because of the low turnout of students at the annual cooperative meeting. I won't take sides on the Johnson Hall protest issue, but I will state that my candidacy was prompted from seeing those protestors advocating their interests. My qualifications include being an older individual, with about 20 years of work experience. I have volunteered on boards of different organizations, including Habitat for Humanity and 4-H youth programs. Currently, I serve on the board of the Chatcolab Northwest Regional Leadership Laboratory. Our organization promotes recreation through leadership. I am involved in Chatcolab as a teacher, registrar and also serve on the promotions committee. I am also a cost-conscious consumer and a student. My inclination would be to help make the bookstore function in the best way possible as a cooperative for the student body.

You are probably asking yourselves: "Bookstore Board of Directors? Who cares?!" Well, as foreign as it may sound, I do. I'm David Martichuski and I am asking you, the student body, to allow me to represent you on the Board of Directors. Having grown up in Eugene, I have observed the various changes in the Bookstore over the past 19 years. Now as a U of O student, I would like to be an instrumental part in future changes. Our independently run Bookstore is going to begin an expansion project. In addressing this upcoming project it is important for our Board members to have vision, organizational skills, and a keen understanding of the University community. I am an energetic and enthusiastic candidate for one of the eight student positions on the 11-member Board. Let's elect a student who will be dedicated to representing the student body and bringing our bookstore to the pinnacle of service. My name is David Martichuski and I can be that student. Consider voting for me on May 10th and 11th for the University of Oregon Bookstore Board of Directors. Thanks!

Sophomore Position

2 persons to be elected for a 2-year term

David Sanchez:

Greetings! My name is David Sanchez, and I am running for the Bookstore Board, Sophomore Seat. There are many reasons behind my candidacy for the Bookstore Board. The first reason is that the student voice is the primary voice on the Bookstore Board. What is most appealing about the structure of the Bookstore Board is this factor: student voice. Currently, I serve as an elected Student Senator and I understand how the student voice is heard within our University. Because of my knowledge of our system, I feel that the Bookstore Board exemplifies student power. Secondly, the Bookstore has immeasurable potential in serving its constituency. As a student living within the greater Eugene community, I feel that the Bookstore has an obligation to offer the highest quality of goods and services. The Bookstore has exciting plans of expansion. While serving as a Bookstore Board member, I plan to offer my experience and knowledge of student issues to ensure that this process of expansion is beneficial to all student needs. In the end, I want to be part of a Board that recognizes student voices and utilizes our talents. Vote for me, David Sanchez for the Bookstore Board, Sophomore Seat!

Christina Scriven:

The reasons for which I have chosen to run for the University of Oregon Bookstore Board are simple. I want experience working with a committee that is actively dedicated to operating in an efficient, economical and timely manner. I want to be a part of a team that provides the best possible customer satisfaction while continuing to build its relationships within the University of Oregon. As a Sophomore Board Member, I will do my best to go above and beyond the standard to reach these goals.

Write-in-Grad. Student Position

1 person to be elected for a 2-year term

Amalia Nita:

WE all should have a word to say in decisions that affect US. Like how OUR Bookstore effectively enhances OUR educational experience at the UO. The UO campus is a thriving, varied, academic community where WE, the graduate students, spend an important part of OUR lives. The UO Bookstore is a part of the picture. A graduate member on the UO Bookstore Board will provide US with an opportunity to have a say in decisions that affect US all. Don't deprive the graduate population from the opportunity to contribute to a better Bookstore. Elect OUR representative, Amalia Nita, MBA 2001! To make OUR word heard and have OUR ideas known WE have to speak up. Ability to listen, convey, and transform messages into action is critical. Amalia has about four years of experience with communication to audiences ranging from varied student bodies to executive boards and international perspective. Even if you don't have the time to convey your input, don't sit back. Elect OUR representative, Amalia Nita, MBA 2001! In short, write this name on the ballot, Amalia Nita, MBA 2001, on May 10 and 11 (8:30 am to 5:00 PM) at the booths provided in the EMU and by the Bookstore!

Faculty-at-Large Position

1 person to be elected for a 2-year term

Shelley Sutherland:

When I first became a member of the Bookstore Board, I did so because I thought I could be helpful in implementing the newly developed long range plan. As a faculty representative, I thought the components of that plan were important to my colleagues. I thought it was essential to address the over-crowded facilities and to be responsive to the technological needs of both students and faculty. Tremendous improvements have been made in these and other areas. Improvements include the new branches in the Casanova Center and the Law School and making sure these new facilities meet the needs of the users. Other improvements include the effort to provide resources for those needing computer technology and the re-organization of the general book section of the bookstore. The transition phase, is however, still very much in progress. Much more needs to be done to make our Bookstore a truly first class facility. I want to continue to be a part of this progress. I have some goals that I desire to pursue. I also want to provide both students and faculty with increased discounts and I want to provide faculty with a comfortable place to examine and choose curriculum materials. My experiences, my interest and my willingness to contribute to the continued progress of the Bookstore qualify me for another term.

Classified Staff or Officer of Administration Position

1 person to be elected for a 2-year term

Joann ZumBrunnen:

As a University administrator who has daily contact with prospective UO students and their families, who frequent the Bookstore, I have first hand experience with the quality, responsiveness, and support the UO Bookstore provides its constituents. It is this reputation of quality that entices me to become a member of the UO Bookstore Board of Directors. I am interested in the challenges that lie ahead, such as meeting the technological, academic, and retail needs of students and instructional faculty. I am excited about the planned expansion and additions of current physical space and support the continuous changes associated with meeting patrons' needs. Throughout my tenure on the University Bookstore Board of Directors I will provide active and collaborative leadership to ensure the Bookstore meets its goals, including anticipated growth. Finally, I will strive to maintain the partnership between the Bookstore and the University which enhances the UO mission of service to its complete community.
