

COLLEGE & ARMY ROTCBUILDING
SUCCESSFUL FUTURES

Army ROTC salutes today's exemplary cadets who keep their eyes on today's triumphs and set the stage for tomorrow's successes.

COURTNEY WHITE*COURTNEY WHITE
Ohio University

Courtney White, Cadet Battalion Commander for Ohio University's Bobcat Battalion, currently has a 4.0 GPA in her Military Science classes and a cumulative GPA of 3.78 as a Broadcast Journalism major in the E.W. Scripps School of Journalism. As a 4-year National Army ROTC Scholarship recipient, she proves that hard work and dedication pays off. Her academic honors include being inducted into the Alpha Lambda Delta Freshman Honor Society as well as the Golden Key Honor Society and appearing on the Dean's List every quarter of enrollment in college. Cadet White was among 30 cadets across America selected to represent the United States Army Cadet Command during training operations in the United Kingdom. She was also one of 17 cadets selected to serve at the Pentagon as cadet interns. While excelling in ROTC and academics, Cadet White has found time to volunteer for numerous humanitarian causes as well as being an ideal role model for the Ohio University ROTC program.

MILES CARY
West Virginia State College

As a junior at West Virginia State College, Miles Cary commands a ROTC company—a position usually reserved for seniors but given to Cadet Cary based on his demonstrated leadership abilities. He is involved in several mentorship and youth leadership programs, as well as an active leader within the congregation of the First Church of Christian Science. He serves on the Executive Cabinet, All College Council, Legislative Affairs Council, NAACP and was vice president for Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc. Cadet Cary has earned a 3.6 cumulative GPA in English/Criminal Justice and six consecutive mentions on the Dean's List. He has received numerous academic honors, including the Sphinx Magazine Historic Edition Award, Sullivan Hall Scholar and the Military Order of World Wars Award. Elected as junior class president, his involvement on the Student Government Association earned him an appointment as the WVSC Ambassador to South Africa.

MILES CARY*REGINA ROCHA
University of Louisville

Regina Rocha is a senior attending the University of Louisville, with a 3.5 cumulative GPA in her major, Psychology. She is currently a member of the Golden Key National Honor Society, Psi Chi and Phi Theta Kappa. Ranger Challenge, Officer Christian Fellowship, the Army Ten-Miler and the Bataan Death March re-creation in White Sands, New Mexico, are among the numerous activities in which Cadet Rocha has participated. Through ROTC, she was also given the opportunity to attend Airborne School and earn her "jump wings." With no prior military experience, Cadet Rocha has transitioned well into ROTC and aspires to become an officer in the United States Army.
