

ARIZONA VS. OREGON

KICKOFF AT 7:15 PM, AUTZEN STADIUM SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 2000

GAME DAY

OREGON DAILY EMERALD 20TH OF OCTOBER, 2000 BROADCAST ON FOX SPORTS NET, 7:15 PM

THE OREGON DEFENSE:

IT ALWAYS REIGNS

Oregon's 'D' leads the Pacific-10 Conference in total defense heading into its game against Arizona.

5B

D. Brunell Emerald

Oregon's Garrett Sabol (35), Rasuli Webster (22), Saul Patu (48), Ryan Mitchell (24), Matt Smith (49) and Kevin Mitchell (39) group tackle Washington's Marques Tuiasosopo. Oregon's defense has been huge in the Ducks' five wins.

After capturing its first road win of the season, Oregon returns home to face Arizona in its homecoming game

By Scott Pesznecker
Oregon Daily Emerald

Ready the tailgate parties, wear something green and break out the portable bleacher seats.

The boys are back in town.

After taking its show on the road to Southern California, the No. 7 Oregon football team (5-1 overall, 3-0 Pacific-10 Conference) takes on No. 21 Arizona (5-

1, 3-0) at Autzen Stadium, 7:15 p.m. Saturday. The game is the Ducks' first action at home since beating then-No. 6 Washington on Sept. 30.

Oregon played well in its win over the Trojans last Saturday, showing the nation it can win outside its hostile home territory. In doing so, the Ducks tied their highest-ever national ranking, last earned in 1964.

Now, the home team can't wait to remind its fans, the Pac-10 and the football world what it can do at Autzen. Another win could even slip the Ducks to a school-record sixth in the Associated Press poll.

"We have everything to lose in this game, and everything to gain as well," quarterback Joey Harrington said. "Every week is the biggest game. As long

Turn to Game preview, page 2B

Oregon Daily Emerald