Tailback Maurice Morris (left) and quarterback Joey Harrington (above) make Oregon's offense one of the most versatile and unpredictable in the Pac-10.

Double Threat

■ Maurice Morris and Joey Harrington have been ganging up on opposing defenses all season

They are a one-two punch.

They are a left uppercut and a jab to the gut.

Oregon's offensive combination of Maurice Morris and Joey Harrington has been knocking out opposing teams all season.

Harrington, the quarterback, is better on the road. Morris, the tailback, is better at Autzen Stadium. When one has a bad game, the other steps in and shines, and the Ducks are 8-1 as a result.

Recently, the star has been Harrington.

"Whenever the team struggles, whether it's the defense or the running game, we always know [Harrington] will step it up," Morris said. "He's done it all year."

The junior quarterback has thrown for 646 yards and seven
