her immediately, and she was told not to play anymore soon after.

"Growing up, my dream was always to play for Stanford," Carey said. "That's the hardest part of it. I'll never put on a Stanford uniform again and be with my team on the floor again."

"But, I'll still be there for them and with them, and I'll go through everything with them. I just won't be physically playing."

Oregon players and coaches were downtrodden in mid-September when star point guard Shaquala Williams tore her anterior cruciate ligament, an injury that will keep her from playing this season.

While the Ducks prepared for practice Wednesday, Williams stood in the hallway inside McArthur Court and talked about how bad she feels for her fallen competitor.

"Obviously, you've been told you can't play for six months, and somebody was just told they can't ever play again, and obviously it's tough for her," Williams said. "It has definitely put things in perspective for me in that as bad as I feel for myself, her situation's worse."

Williams, who knows Carey better than her teammates through summer league play, said she sent Carey an e-mail after she found out what happened.

"I told her I felt bad for what happened to her, and if she ever needed to e-mail somebody to vent or whatever, I was there, and it made me feel kind of bad that I was feeling so bad about myself, and now she's put in a situation where she can't play," Williams said.

Another Duck who can connect with Carey's ordeal is guard/forward Lindsey Dion. Dion suffered a concussion last season, causing players, coaches and fans to keep a careful eye on her.

She's so young, and she had what looked like ... a promising future for Stanford. What a bummer — for her, for her teammates, for the Pac-10.

"I can't say I didn't think about it," Dion said. "I'm bummed for her, it's got to be disappointing and I can't imagine how she feels. It was hard enough having to sit out for a month, let alone someone telling you your career's over.

"She's so young, and she had what looked like to be a promising future for Stanford. What a bummer — for her, for her teammates, for the Pac-10."

Camber's day in the sun

Guard Camber Ellingson had never officially scored a single point, grabbed more than one rebound or played more than four minutes in her collegiate career.

That is, until last Friday.

The Baker City-native scored five points in nine minutes in front of 5,002 fans at Mac Court Friday as Oregon beat Portland, 80-56.

Watching from the stands were friends and family of Ellingson, including her 25-year-old brother, Greg, who played football at the Air Force Academy. Ellingson said she idolizes her brother, and that his presence made her first points even more special.

"I wanted to show him what I could do," Ellingson said.

Ellingson scored her first career point on a fourth-quarter free throw. As the ball fell through the net, she said she didn't realize her long-awaited milestone.

"I didn't think about it when it went in," she said. "After the game, when teammates were congratulating me, that's when it hit me."

Ellingson doesn't expect her minutes to increase, and said she isn't sure why head coach Jody Runge put her into Friday's game.

However, Ellingson said she was happy to be on the floor.

"Of course I would love to contribute more to the team, but I don't think that's my role," she said. "I'm more of an emotional leader."

Horoscope by Linda C. Black

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 30). You're practical this year — and scholarly, too. You'll earn more if you spend more on your education. It's deductible! Continue to change for the better in December with a new routine. Spend wisely in January, and you'll profit. Something that seemed impossible could start taking shape in February through your ingenuity. Heed a co-worker's advice to profit in May and your partner's advice to have more fun in June. Schedule a cruise or tour with friends for October.

To get the advantage, check the day's rating: 10 is the easiest day, 0 the most challenging.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Today is an 8 — You've had a lot of obstacles to overcome, and you've done a good job. You're trying out a new idea, but it's based on solid planning. You've had time to do a lot of that, lately, with all the delays. Put your plan into action.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Today is a 6 — Advance your career by providing what an older person needs. This is difficult; don't let fear slow you down. Use what you've learned through experience, but don't let past failures interfere. This is a whole new ball game.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) — Today is a 7 — Contact with somebody from far away could get you reved up. You can accomplish something you'd just about given up on. This is an opportunity you mustn't let slip through your fingers. Reach out a little further this time.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) — Today is a 4 — New information could change your investment plan. Check out all rumors before signing on the dotted line. Read the fine print. The money's there, but the interest rate may be too high, for example. Proceed with caution in business dealings.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Today is a 7 — Your partner can see what's going on and should make a good decision. You're usually the captain, so following's not easy. It's good for you to do this, every once in a while. If you've chosen the right leader, you have nothing to worry about.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — Today is a 6 — More work's coming in. The bad news is that the money's going out just about as fast. Plug up a leak by cutting costs. That's hard to do when you're so busy. But if you don't, you could be doing all this work for nothing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — Today is an 8 — You're lucky in love, and travel looks especially romantic. Getting away may be hard, but you can take a fantasy excursion. Pick up an exotic dinner to go and a movie set in a foreign land. Let your sweetheart know when and where to meet you!

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Today is a 6 — Home is where you ought to be tonight. Something there isn't working the way it should. If you let somebody else take care of the situation, it won't meet your expectations. Stay involved if you want what you had in mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — Today is a 7 — Your friends are always eager to give you helpful advice. Today they might go even further. Do you need a good attorney? A partner to help with your work? Ask friends. They'd be glad to set you up. They know just what you need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Today is a 6 — Plenty of work's coming in, and plenty of money can be made. A surprise is involved, like a chance to put in more overtime. Don't schedule anything else so you can grab this opportunity when it shows up.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Today is an 8 — Your dreams and fantasies look like they're going to happen now, especially in romance. You're pushing harder. Keep doing what you're doing. It works.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Today is a 6 — Something you've been thinking about could work out well. You're following the blueprints, but don't let them limit you. A combination of planning, foresight and flying by the seat of your pants will get you there this time.
