

Your Community Bookstore

Non Profit. Owned by students, faculty and staff. Governed by students, faculty and staff. That's your bookstore. And that's what makes our relationship with you unique. We're not just another business. We're a partner in your education from orientation through graduation.

Our sole purpose has been to meet your needs at the university of Oregon. From 1916 when the first bookstore was organized until the present; student, faculty and staff needs have changed. We're able to meet these changes through your support and suggestions, along with the creativity of our employees.

Every year we're challenged to go farther, be better. We hope to challenge you to keep telling us what you need-to keep shopping here. The more you use us, the more we can return to you. Money spent here, beyond our operational needs, comes back-not to us, but to you in book and product savings. That's our unique partnership.

Did you know:

The UO Bookstore has some of the lowest prices in the country for college course books. We give a 10% discount on all books EVERYDAY to current UO students, faculty and staff.

We're die-hard Duck fans and sell UO sportswear and gifts. Our Duck Shops® are located in the main Bookstore, at the Moshofsky Sports Center, and in Portland at the UO Portland Center. We have a large sportswear catalog as part of our website at www.uobookstore.com.

We're famous for our art supplies, and have an office and school supply store in our basement. Our customers get personal service and a wide selection of unique and hard-to-find items.

Our Digital Duck Computer Center sells computers and software to the UO community at reduced, academic prices. You can get paper, ink cartridges, speakers, disks, batteries, and more. The Bookstore also has phones, pagers, and full service photo processing and digital imaging.
