Oregon senior golfer Jerilyn White played two spectacular rounds of golf at the Arizona Wildcat Invitational this week, and she ended the tournament in seventh place.

Unfortunately for the Oregon women's golf team, White's score couldn't count four times.

Oregon finished 15th out of 16 teams at their first tournament of 2001, which ended Wednesday. White was the only Duck golfer to finish in the top 35 individually.

"Jerilyn's last two days were awesome," Oregon head coach Shannon Rouillard said. "[The tournament] was a growing experience. We got a foundation to see what we need to work on."

Arizona, who hosted the three-day tournament, won by eight strokes over Stanford. The Wildcats' Lorena Ochoa won the individual title, five strokes ahead of White.

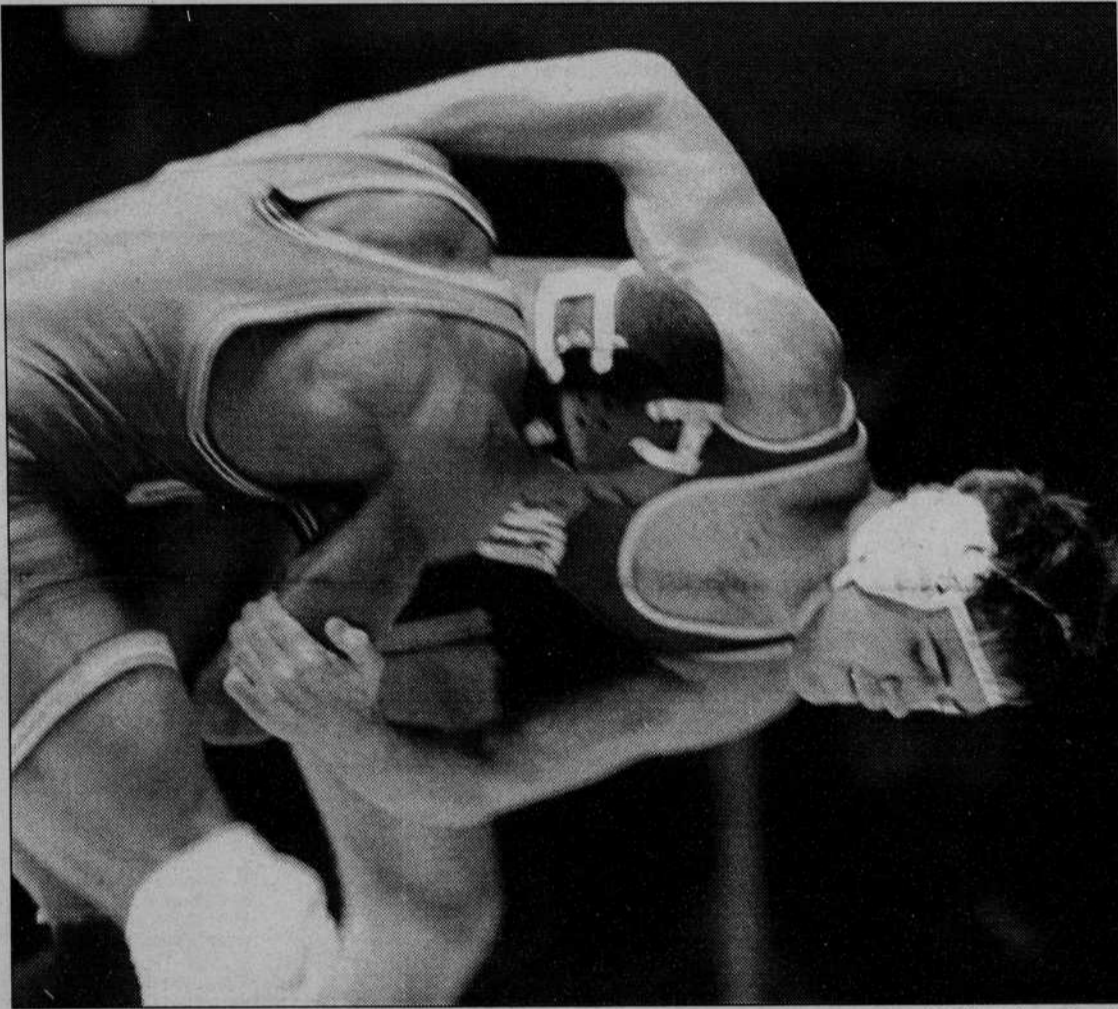

Junior Kathy Cho was the second-best Oregon finisher, carding a 230 to finish 37th. Redshirt freshman Lacy Erickson finished 77th with a 245, while seniors Dawn Berry (87th) and Claire Hunter (91st) also placed. Freshman Katie Cunningham finished 92nd.

The tournament was the first for the Ducks in the winter/spring season. Oregon will play three more tournaments this spring before participating in the Pacific-10 Conference Championships May 10-25.

If the Pac-10 Championships had been held in Arizona this week, Oregon would have finished last in the conference. Southern California finished fourth in the 15-team field, Washington finished eighth, UCLA finished 11th and California finished 14th, six strokes ahead of the Ducks.

Oregon will next play in the GTE "Mo" memorial March 5-6 in Houston, Texas.

has a 4-4 season record. The Bend native is 6-8 overall.

The unexpected return of Lee this month forced a wrestle-off for the 174 pound slot. Williams (8-15) defeated Lee twice to earn the nod. Lee hadn't wrestled a collegiate match in over a year.

Final Pac-10 Standings

No. 11 Arizona State wrapped up the Pac-10 regular season title on February 4 with a win over Cal State-Bakersfield. The Sun Devils finished the season 4-0 in the conference, 10-5 overall.

Arizona State and second place Boise State never met during the regular season, but the Broncos' upset loss to third place Oregon State took them out of the running.

The Ducks (4-4) finished fourth behind the Beavers (6-2) after wrapping up the season with five straight dual match losses.

Recruiting watch

All three of Oregon's early signees won their respective district championships last weekend and move on to the state tournament.

Shane Webster, the top-ranked 171-pounder in the nation, from Central Point's Crater High, stormed through his bracket en route to his third consecutive state tournament appearance. Webster is 34-0 this season and the fourth wrestler from Crater to sign with Oregon in six years.

Ten miles to the northeast, Eagle Point's Chet McBee also won his district bracket. McBee is ranked third among Oregon preps and is expected to wrestle at either 149 or 157 pounds next season.

Halfway across the country, heavyweight Neil Phillips of Broken Arrow, Okl., also won his district tournament. Phillips is the younger brother of current Oregon wrestler Branson Phillips.

Rankings

The devastating Civil War loss to Oregon State last Wednesday cost the Ducks several places in the Amateur Wrestling News polls. Oregon dropped to No. 20 in the team rankings following their fifth straight loss.

Sophomore heavyweight Eric Webb dropped one spot to No. 5 after sitting out the Oregon State match with a concussion.

Senior All-Americans Doug Lee and Chael Sonnen remained the No. 7 wrestlers at 184 and 197 pounds, respectively.

Junior Shaun Williams and sophomore Brian Watson both dropped out of the top ten following upset losses to Beaver wrestlers.
