Teens admit roles in Bend homicide

BEND — A 15-year-old charged along with four other teens in the death of one of the youths' mother admitted to police that he pulled the trigger, according to an indictment document obtained Monday by KATU-TV.

According to the document, Seth Edwin Koch told police he shot 52-year-old Barbara Ann Thomas in her rural home on March 26 after he and Thomas' son, Adam Squires Thomas, bludgeoned her with a glass bottle.

He told police that the motive for the killing was to steal Thomas' car.

Koch, 18-year-old Thomas, and three others — Justin Alan Link, 17; Lucretia Anne Karle, 16; and Ashley Marie Summers, 15 — are charged with aggravated murder, kidnapping and robbery. They were arraigned Monday.

The document obtained by KATU-TV detailed interviews conducted by Deschutes County investigators.

According to the document, Thomas admitted striking his mother in the head with a glass bottle, and two other teens confessed to playing roles in Thomas' death.

Summers admitted to making plans to kill Thomas and acting as a lookout for the victim's arrival at the home between Bend and Redmond.

Karle told investigators she came up with a plan to put Thomas in a bathtub filled with water and electrocute her by putting a portable stereo and hairdryer in the tub.

Investigators who searched the Thomas home for evidence found extension cords plugged into a stereo and hairdryer near the bathtub.

Deschutes County District Attorney Mike Dugan said a .308-caliber rifle that was recovered is believed to be the murder weapon.

News brief

City Council moves closer to approving Bus Rapid Transit Line

The Eugene City Council decided last night during a general work session that city staff will have control over changes made in Bus Rapid Transit Line within Eugene city limits.

The BRT plan has been developed by the Lane Transit District and Eugene city staff as a speedier and more environmentally friendly transportation system than the current bus system, LTD spokesman Ed Bergeron said. The plan has yet to be approved by Eugene and Springfield city governments, but Eugene City Council members said they are ready to support the plan after certain changes are made.

Concerns about the plan range from how to pay city staff who have been working on the planning and development of the BRT Line to giving city staff final say on changes made to the design plan. Currently there is no extra pay for city staff working on the BRT planning committee.

The BRT planning committee has planned another work session with the City Council on May 30.
