

Ellis

"One of the main reasons I was so high on this place was coach Nosler," Ellis said. "He cares about you on the course, off the course and in the classroom. None of the other coaches were like that."

Nosler said he went after Ellis "hard" to get him to come to Oregon. The Duck coach knew what kind of impact a player of Ellis' caliber would have on his program and wasn't at all surprised to see Ellis win only his second Division I tournament, the aforementioned Sept. 26 Husky Invitational.

Nosler agrees with Genovese that Ellis can be "hard to read" at times, but says his calm nature helps him greatly with the sometimes frustrating game of golf.

"He doesn't get too giddy if he makes a couple of birdies in a row and doesn't get too down if he makes a couple of bogeys in a row," Nosler said. "He knows there's 18 holes in a round and that attitude is reflected in his demeanor."

Genovese laughs when recalling his roommate's September individual crown. Genovese said that he didn't really know anything about Ellis as a golfer and surely didn't expect the Duck newcomer to challenge for first.

"I was surprised because he came out after the first day and got in the van with us and didn't say a thing," Genovese said. "We had no idea he was even in the running. But then we came out again and he just played it smart and won it."

"That's a big deal to have someone come out so early and play like that." Ellis was excited about that first win, but expresses slight disappointment in his "so-so" season since then. He knows he could have played better in certain situations, but also knows that all can be forgotten with a stellar showing at this week's NCAA Regional. Should the Ducks finish in the top-10 as a team, which they are likely to do, then they will advance on to the May 30-June 2 NCAA Championships in Durham, North Carolina.

Playing in the top tourney of the year on the campus of Duke is certainly a long ways away from those junior college tournaments and the quiet, yet confident Ellis is looking forward to that challenge.

"That'd be awesome," Ellis said. "Durham's one of the golfing capitals. This is one of the reasons I chose Oregon."

"I expect us to do it." Just as Nosler expects Ellis to expand on his unlimited potential in the years to come, even if Ellis does so in his "shy guy"-type of way.

"He's so knowledgeable about the game and so talented," Nosler said. "When he says something, though, it's usually meaningful."

Horoscope by Linda C. Black

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (May 16). Review your budget this year and plug up the leaks. Waste less, and you'll have more to play with in May. A brilliant idea makes you wealthier in June. In July, offer friends advice instead of cash. They'll return the favor by helping you work smarter in September and October. Changes affect your cash flow in December, so stay alert. Don't quit your day job, which pays well in February. Let yourself splurge for a good cause in March.

To get the advantage, check the day's rating: 10 is the easiest day, 0 the most challenging.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)—Today is a 5— You may be in the mood for love, but it's hard to make the connection. Your own worries aren't helping, but they may be hard to ignore. Slow down, and don't push. Do more listening than talking, even if you don't feel like it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)—Today is a 7— Your best-laid plans are in for a few changes. Something you ordered costs more than you thought, or it doesn't turn out as imagined. The show will go on. Change your expectations.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)—Today is a 6— You've got what seems like a great idea, but it's hard to sell. Others seem to block you every inch of the way. Maybe in your excitement, you forgot to find out if this fits in with what they want. Better ask.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)—Today is a 7— Others are struggling, frustrated, grumpy. You're a natural nurturer. If you're a good cook, too, there's your opening. Provide good, healthy food. Otherwise they may forget to eat, and that makes them worse.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)—Today is a 5— It might seem like your forward motion is blocked, and it is. This is a temporary condition that will last through tomorrow. Part of the problem is that you're having bigger fantasies than usual. You want things you can't afford, yet. Use this as motivation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)—Today is a 7— Do you get to travel or take a class while your mate has to stay behind? Work and family responsibilities seem to be getting in your partner's way, but your path is clear. Take lots of photos or good notes. You can share everything when you get back home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct 22)—Today is a 6— Focus on your work, especially the creative part. Your goal shouldn't be travel or education yet. First, pay off an old debt. You have no idea how much freer and wiser you'll feel, unless you've done this before.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)—Today is a 7— Provide a soft shoulder for a loved one. Things are going well for you, but someone you love has troubles. This might be a child, but you'll know who. It's the person who looks as if they could use a big hug.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)—Today is a 5— Are you arguing about a household matter with your mate or roommate? Roommates include dogs, cats, fish and houseplants. If you're not aware of a problem, ask. You could get an earful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)—Today is an 8— There's more on your to-do list than you could ever accomplish in one day. Instead of going faster, slow down. Pushing isn't going to help, and it might make matters worse. If you hold still, what you want will come to you quicker.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)—Today is a 6— Just do whatever is required, and don't make waves. There's enough confusion already. Don't bring up the topic of money. Don't worry about it, either. If you think you need more, get a book that will help.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)—Today is a 7— This is a frustrating day. Even if you're right, which is quite possible, it's hard to get what you want. But you can keep others from doing what you don't want, and there's some satisfaction in that.
