for people with packages and one for those without. All packages and containers will be thoroughly searched by staff members.

The second area affecting Duck fans directly is a restriction on parking motor homes on Centennial Boulevard. The Oregon staff will not allow staging of vehicles on University property or public streets — specifically Centennial Boulevard — until five hours prior to kickoff. Also, television satellite trucks will no longer be allowed inside the stadium, as they have in the past.

Moos said the department will implement security measures that the public may not notice. He also mentioned there may be "more uniformed police officers" than before.

"We will have more people at Autzen, and in different places," Moos said.

The athletics director said the security upgrade may apply to other sporting events as well, such as those at McArthur Court during basketball season, but that the athletics department will evaluate those venues as the seasons approach.
