Oregon has only once beaten two Pac-10 foes in the same weekend. In 1998, the Ducks swept the Arizona schools in Eugene.

A two-horse conference

When thinking about early front-runners for Pac-10 player of the year award, two players dominate the pack. California's Laura Schott and UCLA's Stephanie Rigamat have been invaluable to their teams' success this season.

Schott leads the conference in goals, goals per game and total points. Rigamat leads in another key category, game-winning goals. Oregon freshman Nicole Garbin is tied with Rigamat, with four game-winners.

Rigamat was named the Pac-10 player of the week for her five-point performance against Arizona and Arizona State.

Zografos said.

Sophomore Magdalena Sandoval: "We outlined our expectations for those meets, and they are tangible goals."

Sandoval is also optimistic that she and her teammates have yet to reach their potential.

"We're all just kind of waiting for the meet where we all just pull it together," she said.

It's in the cards: Stanford undefeated

By winning their respective meets at the pre-nationals, the Stanford men's and women's cross country teams remained undefeated this season. The No. 2 men's team finished Saturday's race with 56 points in the men's black race, well ahead of second place team North Carolina State (94 points).

The Cardinal women's team, also ranked No. 2 in the nation, beat out Brigham Young in the women's silver race. They were paced by Alicia Craig, who finished third overall with a time of 20:48.

The men's top runner was second place finisher Grant Robison, who ran the 8-kilometer course in 24:31.

Austin and Torres running away with honors

For the second week in a row, Colorado runners Molly Austin and Jorge Torres swept the Big 12 Conference Runners-of-the-Week Award.

Austin won her second race in as many weekends at the pre-NCAA's on Saturday. Her winning time of 20:48, held the course record at the 6-K Furman University cross country course for about 45 minutes until a pair of runners, including Washington's Sabrina Munro bettered Austin's mark in the next race (the Pre-NCAA silver race).

Torres, the leader of the Colorado men's team, finished at 23:49, which was 18 seconds behind the winner, Boaz Cheboiywo, but both men managed to beat the previous record for the 8-K course.

Football

is "probable at best" for Saturday. Amundson sprained his ankle Sept. 29 against Utah State.

Fraudulent claims?

Not everyone is jumping on the Oregon bandwagon.

In its midseason report card, CNNSI.com gave Harrington and tight end Justin Peelle honorable mention All-American honors, but was not so fond of the Oregon defense.

In the category "Your Top Five Soon-to-be-Exposed Frauds," the staff at CNNSI rated Oregon the No. 1 fraud, saying the "beyond-suspect defense will eventually burn them."

Tennessee, Michigan State, Virginia and Texas rounded out the top-5 frauds.

Most likely to win the national championship, CNNSI chose Miami as its top pick, followed by Oklahoma, Nebraska, UCLA and Florida.

We'll take that

Oregon is second in the country in turnover margin at +2.33 take-aways per game. And no other team in the country has more interceptions than Oregon's 14.

The Ducks have also recovered six fumbles, compared to just three turnovers themselves (three interceptions, three fumbles).
