Consider Graduate Study at Evergreen

Master of Environmental Studies

Uniquely integrated professional preparation for those working at the interface between environmental science and society policymaking in the public, private and nonprofit sectors.

Master of Public Administration

Quality professional education for the public and nonprofit sectors; preparing students to seek democratic, equitable and practical solutions to the problems that face governments, organizations and communities in the Pacific Northwest.

Master in Teaching

Builds skills in community relationships, collaborative learning and critical and reflective thinking in life and in the classroom; includes certification.

The Associate Director of Graduate Programs will be at the Graduate School and Career Fair in the EMU Ballroom, Wednesday, November 7 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

They've both earned the same GPA.

They'll both graduate with the same degree.

So why will one hit the street
with professional experience, while the other one pounds the pavement?

The difference is one of the top ten internships in America.*
