

The Warning Signs of Inner Peace

A loss of the ability to worry

When we are connected to our body we can trust our creative responses. When we are tense we become blocked off from our feelings. In this anxious state we run tape loops in our head desperately searching for peace.

At Network Chiropractic, we integrate standard, light-force and energy procedures to achieve maximal ease. Dr. Jordan Michels (20 years in practice) takes time to focus on the cause, not just the symptom. Is Network Chiropractic for you?

Rose Bowl bid, but the Beavers had been leading with 4:42 left in the game. Oregon quarterback Danny O'Neil then led a Harrington-like 70-yard march down the field to win the game, 17-13.

Oregon State head coach Dennis Erickson knows the importance of the Civil War.

"This is the most important game of the year — no question," he said. "And it was last year, and it was the year before, and it will be next year, and it will be, hopefully, 10 years from now, when I'm still coaching here."

"Because it's the Civil War and it's about bragging rights for a year, about pride in both these programs — it will always be the most important football game."

Whatever the outcome, the Civil War is always a hard-fought battle. Given the records of the two schools, Oregon fans may be treated to a 44-0 blowout like the two that occurred in 1895 and 1987. But as the saying goes for big rivalry games, "You can throw out the records when these two teams get together."

Simonton

that's what it means, to do something that no other Pac-10 running back has ever done."

Added senior quarterback Jonathan Smith: "For him to get that record, to be by himself in the Pac-10, that's where he belongs."

While the personal achievement would be impressive, Erickson said Simonton would pass it up for a Civil War win.

"If he can get over 100 yards against Oregon, we have a chance to win the game — that's the bottom line," the third-year Beaver coach said. "Sure, I'd like to see Ken get that thing; all of us would. But that will never have any effect on how I coach this football game. The No. 1 thing is winning the game. Winning the Civil War will last a lot longer in Ken Simonton's mind than reaching that record."

The glamor of a career achievement for the Oregon State running back is fresh on the minds of the Ducks, though, and Steve Smith, for one, does not want to see it happen on his home field.

"He's not getting it. He's not getting it," the senior defensive back said. "We feel that that's what they're going to come out and try to do, establish the run, and we're going to come out and stop it. He got 113 last year. He's not going to get it this year."

Of course, all of the talk ends this Saturday when the two teams collide in a battle where actions will speak louder than words.

And if Simonton has anything to do with it, all that begins well will end well for the Beavers.
