

PFC

Before heading into the appeals process, the PFC allocated $300 to the Warsaw Sports Marketing Club, a new student group that helps sports marketing majors learn about sponsoring sporting events.

MEChA received an increase in its multicultural line item during the appeals process, increasing its budget from $16,496 to $16,826.

The PFC also voted to hear the Pre-Dental Club's appeal and the Model United Nation's appeal for its nonexistent budget. The MUN had not expected to have a program for the 2002-03 year.

"Basically, all but four members graduated last year, and we did not anticipate the number of sophomores and freshmen who have shown interest in our program," Model United Nations director of operations Joe Streckert said.

The PFC's overall allocation for student groups — before the appeals and recalls process — stands at $1,650,790.

During the remainder of the hearing, the PFC decided which groups will be recalled to accommodate for the $536,000 miscalculation in the PFC budget. All PFC-funded groups were divided into two groups for possible recalls, Tier 1 and Tier 2. All programs in the Tier 1 category will be recalled and their hearings are scheduled for Feb. 7, 11 and 12. The PFC will decide on Feb. 14 if any student groups in Tier 2 need to be recalled to further trim the budget.

The recall hearing schedule will be posted at the ASUO controllers office.
