

A sign reading 'Please Touch' accompanies this stand that attracts the curious to play with its rainbow strands.

Adam Jones Emerald

Adam Jones Emerald

A plethora of street performers and musicians line the walks of the market. Some have been known to offer lessons to those willing to stay and learn.

Market

continued from page 1

"They are interested and are looking, but they aren't willing to dish out any money," said Klang, who has sold at Eugene's Saturday Market and Portland's Saturday Market for the past four years. "More sun would help my products — they sparkle."

To ensure uniqueness and originality, vendors at the market must follow a fundamental rule that all products be sold by either the person who made them or by a family member.

"The market has a certain amount of turnover," Mini said. "A lot of vendors make their living here. The competition keeps things from becoming stagnant."

The first Eugene Saturday Market opened May 9, 1970. Founded by Lotte Streisinger, her market vision was created from plazas she saw in Central America and Europe.

Saturday Market is a non-profit organization. Market staff estimates that more than $2.5 million worth of local handcrafts and food items are sold annually during market events. Saturday Market, located at Eighth Avenue and Oak Street, is open every Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., April through November.

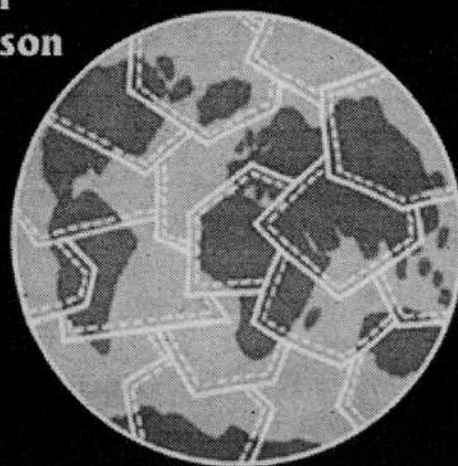

Brad Schmidt is a freelance reporter for the Emerald.

I
N
T
E
R
N
A T
I
O
N
A L

Monday April 8th --
Music Day
EMU Amphitheater
* 10:30am -- Parade
* 11am - 3pm -- Live music:
Japanese Student Organization,
African Student Association
and the Brazilian band - Edson
Oliveira/Sun Bossa Duo.

Tuesday April 9th --
Art Day
EMU Fir Room
* 11am - 3pm -- Art
Exhibitions from around the world
presented by international students and groups;
Refreshments provided.

Wednesday April 10th --
Dance Day
EMU Amphitheater
* 11am - 3pm -- Performances:
Pacific Islands club, Hawaii Club,
Students of the Indian Subcontinent,
Chinese Student Association, Tango,
Salsa and Egyptian folk dance.

Threading Our Cultures

P A
I
C
I
F
I
C
I
S
L
A N
D
S

Thursday April 11th --
Storytelling day
EMU International Resource
Center
* 3 - 4pm -- "Let's Talk about Africa" presented by the
African Student Association.
* 5 - 7pm -- Storytelling by students from various parts of the world and the European
Student Association;
Refreshments provided.
* 7 - 8pm -- Guest Speaker.

Friday April 12th --
Fashion Day
EMU International Resource
Center
* 1 - 2pm -- "Internationalizing
Your Campus Life" by the Office of International Programs.
* 4 - 6pm -- Special Dress-Up
Coffee Hour and the Closing Ceremony.

All events are free.
Rain site for Amphitheater would be EMU Fir Room.
Brought to you by the International Student Association.
For more information, please contact us at 346-4387.