

Teaching.

The Career That Comes with a Lifetime Guarantee.

There are few guarantees in life, however, education is a commodity always in demand.

For over a century, Pacific University's School of Education in Forest Grove and Eugene has been committed to ensuring the success of teachers through education and encouragement.

Our teacher education programs are recognized and accepted nationwide.

You'll enjoy personal attention, small classes, and a financial aid package that makes a private university affordable.

We offer a variety of teacher education programs on both a full-time and part-time basis. Some programs include paid internships.

Pacific University's School of Education also offers School Counseling and Special Education programs.
