annual Papé Jam.

The Ducks start their conference schedule with a home game against top-ranked Arizona on Jan. 2.

But for now, the Ducks said they are just focusing on Grambling State, Cal-State Northridge and Jacksonville. Of that group, Jacksonville is the only squad that could potentially challenge Oregon. The Dolphins finished last season with an 18-12 record and gave Texas a good game before falling 96-90 last fall. The Dolphins' starting five is composed entirely of seniors.

When it comes down to it, the Ducks' biggest opponent this weekend could be a piece of white tape. The NCAA implements experimental rules in exempted preseason tournaments, and that means several new rules will be tested at the John Thompson Challenge. One of those rules is a new three-point line — nine inches behind the normal collegiate three-point line. The Ducks led the Pac-10 in three-pointers last season.

But as they count down to a game with Kansas and their defense of the Pac-10 title, the Ducks won't let white tape or Tigers stand in their way.

"Every game is important," Rid-nour said.

Every game, starting with the first one.

are to work hard on defense, control the defensive end and be unselfish offensively, according to Williams. If the women can do those things, they feel as if they can beat anybody.

"Every win is important, and especially the first one of the season. ... Starting off on a good note is always a good way to go."

Alissa Edwards

Since 1986, Oregon and Gonzaga have met six times and history proves to be on the Ducks' side. The Ducks hope to get things off on the right foot as they almost always have done in the past.

"Every win is important, and especially the first one of the season," senior guard Alissa Edwards said. "Starting off on a good note is always a good way to go."

Court fans for the final time in a Duck uniform. Bell called the final match "sad," while Closs — who transferred to Oregon from Fresno State as a junior — has different thoughts.

"I don't want to think about it," she said. "No thoughts right now."
