Alyce Chong

The Student Senate is responsible for the allocation of more than 8 million dollars to ASUO programs, Erb Memorial Union, and the Athletic department. The role of a Programs Finance Committee senator is to act as a liaison between the Student Senate and the committee as well as allocating 4.5 million dollars to 120+ ASUO programs. These roles of the Programs Finance Committee Senator require the election of a fiscally responsible senator who has the experience and dedication to serve and advocate for the culture and physical development of students.

This past year on the Programs Finance Committee and Student Senate I have gained the experience needed to ensure that our incidental fee will be allocated effectively and efficiently. I would like to continue to protect our incidental fee through the commitment and consistency that I have demonstrated this year as a Programs Finance Committee Senator.

The purpose of the University of Oregon is to provide students with environments that are conducive to learning. While the classroom rarely fits this criteria, most of us will look back on our experience and find we learned primarily through extracurricular activities. The Programs Finance Committee (PFC) is an organization whose purpose is to foster relationships with student groups looking to enhance our atmosphere through athletic, cultural, and political opportunities. I am qualified for this committee through my experience as an entrepreneur, as well as the ability to remain neutral in allocating funds in accordance with the law. More importantly, though, is that I genuinely enjoy the events made possible through the PFC and I will do everything in my power to help facilitate these activities.

Adrian T. Gilmore

The purpose of my campaign is to provide quality and fair representation to my fellow members of the University of Oregon community. I am a first-year law student here at the University of Oregon, and I feel this university provides many outlets for students to express their views and beliefs. This social exercise is essential to student life on this campus. I want make it my priority to ensure that student organizations have adequate funding and a chance to make their voices heard. The Programs Finance Committee is the main vehicle for providing such funding. Serving as an ASUO Senator on the PFC is the best way for me to help my community. I will provide unbiased representation to all of the students in this community.

Through my life experiences and travels I feel that I can bring an understanding of different views and cultures to the table. It is the job of the student government to allow all viewpoints to be expressed and heard on campus. If elected to ASUO Senate Seat #1, I will provide an unbiased ear and voice so that all students can have the opportunity to be heard here at the U of O. Vote Adrian Gilmore for PFC Senate Seat #1

Rick Reed

Do you know what your Senate is doing? Last year, the Student Senate doled out over 8 million dollars. Those 8 million dollars came from you, and you deserve to know where your money is going.

I am running for Senate Seat 1. This position requires many hours of hard work and personal attention to spread our money fairly and responsibly among all 119 student groups submitting their budget to the Programs Finance Committee. Every year there are groups that slip between the cracks; groups that don't receive any money simply because they do not receive the attention they need.

I will ensure that your incidental fees, your 8 million dollars, are not spent needlessly. If you want a Senator who will fight for you, the individual, and someone willing to spend the time to ensure a fair distribution of the incidental fees, vote for me. Vote for Rick Reed.

Kevin Odil

You and every other student at the University of Oregon are paying something called an Incidental Fee. This fee is split up and put into three major areas; the Athletic Department, EMU, and into an account that is used to fund all of the student groups on campus. Over the past few years these fees has been increasing. I feel that there is no need for this to happen. With an increase in the number of students attending the University of Oregon there is more money in the pot with out raising fees.

There has, in the past, been a problem with people on the finance committee also being members of campus organizations funded by incidental fees. When this happens there bias which leads to unfair spending and favoritism. There is no room for this type of bias and favoritism at all. The finance committee is there to help all student groups acquire the funding that they need in order to function appropriately, not help one group more than another.

Hopefully with your vote I will be elected to ASUO Senate seat 2 and change the way our incidental fees are handled. Just remember when you look at all the other candidates running for seat 2, check if they are a member of any organizations funded by our incidental fees. I am sure that you will make the right decision. VOTE FOR KEVIN ODIL

Mena Ravassipour

My name is Mena Ravassipour and I am a General Science major with aspirations to attend medical school. Currently I am an Academic Senator (seat #11), and I would be honored and humbled to have the chance to represent you once again. I am running for Programs Finance Senator Seat #2, I wish to allocate funding to the many student groups that are specifically aimed to assist the general student body. If elected, I will make it a point to represent every student who has a difficulty or dilemma, giving them a voice to feel comfortable in bringing their issues to the forefront. My goal is to be accessible to any student problems and any student group's financial needs. I would take pride in having the responsibility once more, to create opportunities for the individuals whom attend the University of Oregon; to be involved in the decision making process that will affect your schooling lives.

I am ready to take on this responsibility for I have been deeply involved in student government during my entire schooling career. I have held countless office positions that demanded decisiveness and efficiency. You must make the decision that will ultimately create opportunities for yourselves. By choosing a worthy candidate who will listen to your needs and desires; you will be, in effect, choosing more opportunities for growth as a student of the University of Oregon. Choose responsibly, choose opportunity; choose me, Mena Ravassipour as your Programs Finance Senator Seat #2!

Mike Martell

The Programs Finance Committee budgets over $4 million of student money. The job is both demanding and important. As an elected finance senator I will work diligently and professionally to ensure the fiscal responsibility and the legality of all student incidental fee dollars. This past year I served on the Programs Finance Committee as the Executive Appointee; I have experience with the job and am up for the challenges of a second year on the committee. The committee this year did a formidable job and received much praise from both groups taking part in the budget process and onlookers of the budget process. I am very proud of this year's committee and would like to partake in the budget process as a finance senator next year and improve upon an already successful budgeting year. Please vote, Mike Martell.

Joe Jenkins

My name is Joe Jenkins and I want to work for everyone at the University. Before I came to Oregon, I served for four years in student government at my undergraduate college. During that time, I learned that every organization, no matter how small or how large, was integral to the college experience. Organizations provide forums for meeting friends, they increase diversity, and they provide valuable services to the school and community. I want to continue to help organizations by ensuring adequate funding to continue the enrichment of the Oregon community.

How can I do this?

Aside from my experience sitting many hours in meetings with organizations discussing budgets and the many hours debating and voting on organizational budgets, law school has taught me how to listen to all sides of an argument and to be able to represent any one of those viewpoints regardless of my beliefs. This skill helps me separate the beliefs of an organization from my own and recognize value in every organization regardless if I agree with them or not. This is required of any PFC member and I know that I can be impartial and fair.

Beyond the duties of a PFC member, I am prepared to represent every student in my duties of a senator from passing resolutions of student opinion to making sure the administration listens to students' concerns. Thank you for your time and be sure to vote Joe Jenkins, PFC Senator Seat 2.

It is over $8 million of your money—the allocation of the incidental fee will determine and promote many of the extracurricular opportunities you have. As a current Programs Finance senator I have been dedicated to bringing you these opportunities by working with Law, Greek, cultural and other student groups to responsibly spend your incidental fees. My experience has developed my knowledge of student government, leadership and communication skills, and commitment to students.

In order to ensure the fair allocation of the incidental fee, I am committed to demanding fiscal accountability in the spending of your money. The PFC process is lengthy and complicated. To ensure the success of this process, I have been devoted to working with our fellow students. My knowledge of this process along with hard work, professionalism, and com-
