

BETA THETA PI

GO BETA

GO BETA

The #1 Fraternity on Campus

1009 Patterson St. • 343.2262

Rush info: Alex Findlay (971.506.5342)

Keep UO Green!

Remember to recycle.
Collection sites available
throughout campus.

For more information contact campus recycling 346-1529

Sponsored by University of Oregon

Environmental Issues Committee

Campus libraries maintain ample research resources

Campus libraries are host to millions of volumes of information, and computer labs offer online resources

By Noriko Miyazaki
Freelance Reporter

With summer nearly over, it's almost time to hit the books. Fortunately, there are a number of places around campus for students to study and tackle research, including many libraries and computer labs.

Located on the west side of campus, the Knight Library is the largest library on campus and houses more than 2 million volumes and nearly 17,000 journals.

In addition to books and journals, the library has collections of microfilms, slides, maps, manuscripts, compact discs, phonograph records, films, videotapes and state, federal and international documents.

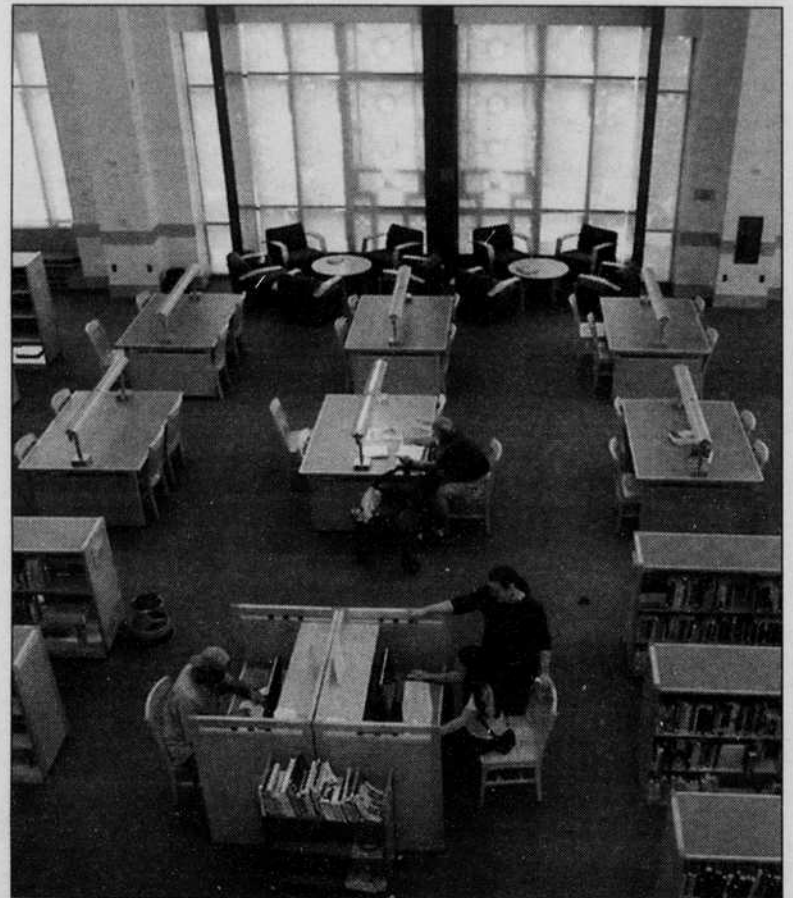

Library Instruction Coordinator Colleen Bell said the library is the center of student research on campus.

"This is the place where you can get books, journals, periodicals, public documents, videos and most of what you would need for your research," she said.

Bell added that students should take more advantage of librarians.

"You can always ask for help," she said. "Don't struggle unnecessary when you have trouble researching or using the libraries. We also answer e-mail questions and take phone questions, too."

For science majors, the Science Library is another good place for research. The library, located in Onyx Bridge, has 160,000 books and current issues of many scientific journals.

Jessica Waters Photo Editor

The new Eugene Public Library, at 100 West 10th Ave., carries more than 300,000 volumes, as well as videos, magazines and many other resources.

Junior chemistry major Marques Johnson said he goes to the Knight Library and the Science Library to gather information for research.

"(The) library is definitely an important place for research," Johnson said. "They have amazing sources. It's

Turn to LIBRARIES, page 11B

CENTRAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Welcomes You!

Holy Communion every Sunday at 8:15 AM, 10:45 AM, 6:30 PM

Looking for a place to live this fall?

Central Lutheran Church sponsors Christus House, a Christian student living cooperative. Call (541) 687-0145 for more information and to learn about current openings.

18th & Potter St. • (541) 345-0395

www.welcometocentral.org