Every year, thousands of students flock to Oregon's colleges and universities. Many people come to school to focus on academics. Some come to campus looking for someone to love. Still others come to party. A few come because they don't know what else to do with their lives, and their parents are willing to foot the bill for higher education. Whatever the reason for attending, college — like almost everything else in life — is what you make of it. Inside you'll find profiles and information on how to get involved with just a few of the various groups and services available to the University community.

Welcome to the University.
