

$2
off everything
LAZAR'S
BAZAR
687-0139
57 W Broadway
DOWNTOWN MALL EUGENE
*Purchases over $10.00
Expires 11/18/03

ALL YOU CAN EAT
SPAGHETTI
& garlic bread
$3.50
Every Tuesday
PIZZA
PETE'S
2506 Willakenzie 344-0998
Oasis Plaza
2673 Willamette 484-0996
27th and Willamette

Café Paradiso
CafeParadiso.com
We're growing up.
Beginning this month, Café Paradiso will be 21 and over on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, so come on in and Enjoy live entertainment from local
Sip a beer on tap or a glass of wine.
But we're still young at heart.
Come in and Relax on our couches to study. Bring your laptop to take advantage of Free wireless Internet access.
Grab a bite to Eat and a cup of Coffee.
Corner of Olive & Broadway, one block from Eugene Station • 484-9933

THE MUSLIM STUDENTS ASSOCIATION
PRESENTS
RAMADAN

Come and celebrate with us!!
Break Fast with the Muslim Students Association

Learn about Ramadan and its importance to Muslims
Wednesday, November 12th
EMU Fir Room, 4:30pm

- The event will be catered by UO catering.
- Please bring warm clothes to support our Clothes Drive for needy families.

For more information, please contact the Muslim Students Association at asuomsa@gladstone.uoregon.edu

SOCCER

continued from page 5

conference this season and will face Nebraska (12-7-1) in Friday's first round. The Huskies wrapped up the season with a 3-0 win over Arizona on Sunday.

The second round takes place on Sunday with the national champion eventually being crowned on Dec. 7.

Contact the sports reporter
at jessethomas@dailyemerald.com.

HAGER

continued from page 5

best collegiate athletic program in the country — would be on an island of its own.

California, which is commonly referred to as one of the best public universities in the nation, would be gone. UCLA and USC — both not too shabby, either — would be left with less exposure. There would be no bowls, no trips to the Sweet 16 and no College World Series berths.

California schools would be left out in the cold.

VOLLEYBALL

continued from page 5

Madison said she welcomes the opportunity to play but never wanted it to come like this.

"It's hard to see Jodi go down," Madison said. "I've learned a lot from her this season. I'm excited for the opportunity, but I have some big shoes to fill."

Madison will have three days of practice with Oregon's first team before Thursday's match against Arizona. In that time frame, the Ducks will need to develop an on-court chemistry with Madison if the offense has any chance of being successful.

"We all knew the sensitive situation of Heather really wanting to do well and us really needing to accept her and make her feel like she's a good

PAC-10 FIRST-ROUND LOCATIONS

UCLA: The Bruins face San Diego (9-7-4) in the first round Friday evening at Frank W. Marshall Field at Drake Stadium.

Arizona State: The Sun Devils face Cal Poly (18-1-2) in the first round in Santa Clara, Calif., Friday at 3 p.m.

Stanford: The Cardinal faces No. 9 seed Santa Clara (12-3-5) in the first round on Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Santa Clara's Buck Shaw Stadium.

USC: The Trojans face Pepperdine (13-5-1) in the first round Friday evening, also on UCLA's campus at Drake Stadium.

Washington: The Huskies face Nebraska (12-7-1) in the first round Friday at 11 a.m. in Portland.

"The bill will do far greater harm than good," NCAA President Myles Brand told the Los Angeles Times. "You put the institutions in a terrible bind — if they follow state law, they're immediately out of the NCAA."

Nebraska enacted a bill that gives student-athletes the ability to be paid, but that was contingent on four of the six states that have teams playing in the Big 12 Conference passing similar bills. That has yet to happen.

The California bill would create a dangerous precedent. It's a scary thought that four prominent Pac-10 teams would be forced out into the cold. It would be an NCAA seriously depleted on the West Coast.

If Murray and Burton really have the best interests of students at mind — as they claim — they'd back off the bill. There wouldn't be enough money to pay every student-athlete in the state, anyway. Better yet, no bowls and no postseason basketball would be a serious lack of motivation for most of the players. That would be the case even if they did get paid.

Money doesn't cure all. Let's hope it doesn't ail everyone else.

Contact the sports editor
at hankhager@dailyemerald.com.
His opinions do not necessarily represent those of the Emerald.

part of this team," sophomore middle blocker Kelly Russell said. "She's someone who can accomplish everything that Jodi did."

Oregon (3-20 overall, 0-14 Pacific-10 Conference) is entering its final home-stand of the year, with Thursday's match against the Wildcats and a Friday showdown with Arizona State. The Ducks will need to step up in order to help Madison with the transition from reserve to starter if they want to win their first home match of the season.

Arizona (12-13, 6-8) will enter McArthur Court as the No. 28 team in the country and one that defeated Oregon 3-0 on Oct. 16. Arizona State (8-15, 3-11) will likely provide Oregon with its best chance for a Pac-10 victory Friday. The Ducks travel to No. 7 Stanford and No. 9 California the week after to finish the season. The Sun Devils defeated Oregon, 3-0, on Oct. 17.

"It's something that we've been working for all season," Russell said of capturing the team's first conference victory. "It's come down to the end and we really want it. We're playing the Arizona schools, so we'll be fired up for that."

Before the Ducks worry about winning a Pac-10 match, they must first make sure that their heads are in the right place and not worrying about Bell's injury.

"All the girls were sad for her, and they want to be there for her," assistant coach Rhonda Rust said. "But at the same time, we have a very strong team, and they feel very comfortable with moving forward and Heather stepping in."

Contact the sports reporter
at jonroetman@dailyemerald.com.

PAC-10

continued from page 6

Price told The Arizona Republic. "It's a place I'd love to be."

Arizona President Peter Likens made his view on Price known shortly after former head coach Mackovic was fired, telling the Tucson (Ariz.) Citizen that "the cloud over him is not a cloud we can accept over us."

But Price told the Spokesman-Review and reporters who have contacted him since that he believes he can change opinions and clear his name.

"Coaching is all I ever wanted to do," Price told the Spokesman-Review. "It's all I've ever done. I think I have a calling. I think I can still motivate and lead people."

Contact the senior sports reporter at mindirice@dailyemerald.com.

PAC-10 STANDINGS

	Conference		Overall
	W	L	W	L
1. Washington State	5	1	8	2
2. USC	4	1	8	1
3. UCLA	4	2	6	4
4. Oregon State	3	2	6	3
5. Oregon	3	3	6	4
Washington	3	3	5	5
California	3	3	5	6
8. Stanford	2	4	4	4
9. Arizona State	1	5	4	6
Arizona	1	5	2	8

Nationally ranked:

USC: No. 2 in AP and ESPN/USA Today

Washington State: No. 8 in AP and ESPN/USA Today

22nd Annual Art Products

TOOLS OF THE TRADE SHOW

November
12 - 13, 2003
11 a.m. - 7 p.m.
Main Floor

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON
BOOKSTORE

