Kellen Clemens
sophomore quarterback
Burns, Ore.
6'2", 214 lbs.

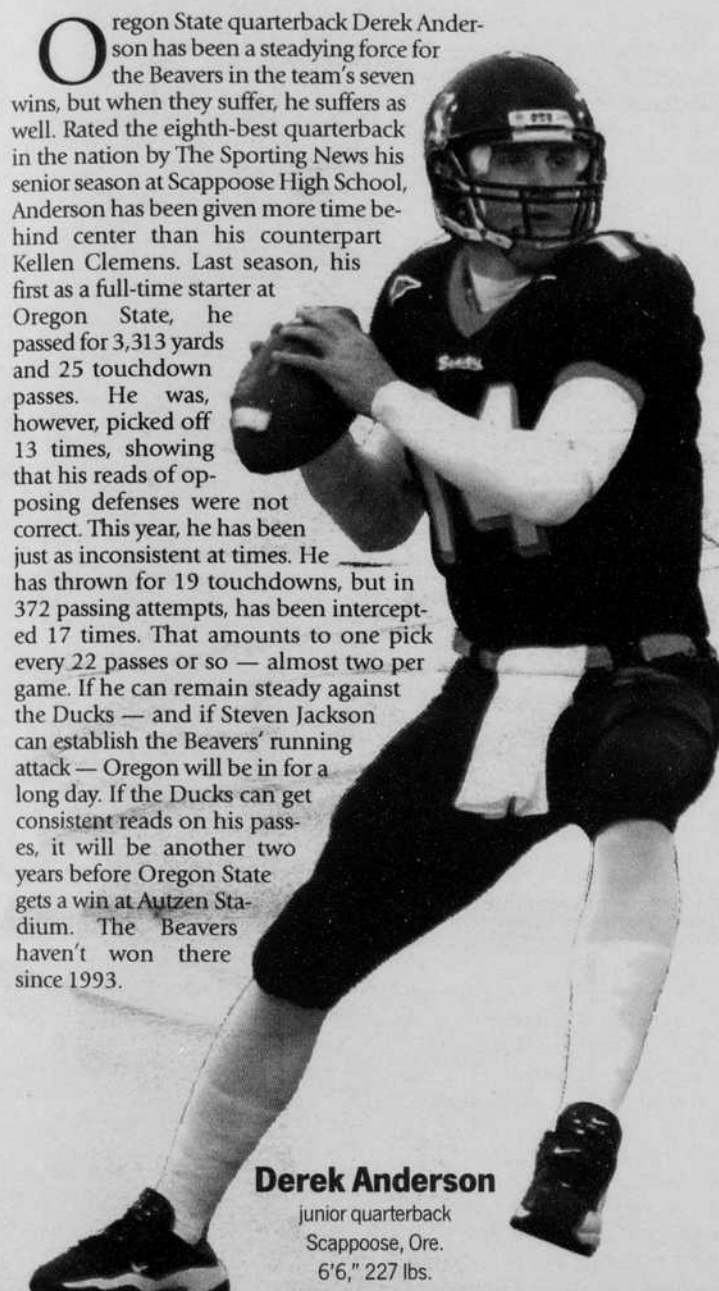

When Oregon quarterback Kellen Clemens was a senior at Burns High School, he was one of the most heralded recruits in Ducks' history. Called the fifth-best quarterback as a senior by The Sporting News, Clemens came to Oregon after passing for 8,646 yards in his high school career. Now a redshirt sophomore, Clemens has begun to assert himself as the definite quarterback of the future for the Ducks. In Oregon's wins over California and UCLA in recent weeks, Clemens has taken control of the offense at just the right moments. His confidence never wavers, win or lose, and he could be one of the nation's best signal callers by his senior season in Eugene. He has thrown for 1,912 yards on the strength of 139 for 236 passing. Clemens has also thrown for 12 touchdown strikes while being picked off seven times. He will be a big key if Oregon is to defeat Oregon State on Saturday.

Derek Anderson
junior quarterback
Scappoose, Ore.
6'6", 227 lbs.

Oregon State quarterback Derek Anderson has been a steady force for the Beavers in the team's seven wins, but when they suffer, he suffers as well. Rated the eighth-best quarterback in the nation by The Sporting News his senior season at Scappoose High School, Anderson has been given more time behind center than his counterpart Kellen Clemens. Last season, his first as a full-time starter at Oregon State, he passed for 3,313 yards and 25 touchdown passes. He was, however, picked off 13 times, showing that his reads of opposing defenses were not correct. This year, he has been just as inconsistent at times. He has thrown for 19 touchdowns, but in 372 passing attempts, has been intercepted 17 times. That amounts to one pick every 22 passes or so — almost two per game. If he can remain steady against the Ducks — and if Steven Jackson can establish the Beavers' running attack — Oregon will be in for a long day. If the Ducks can get consistent reads on his passes, it will be another two years before Oregon State gets a win at Autzen Stadium. The Beavers haven't won there since 1993.
