xACT 2003

Last fall, 900 students from 28 colleges and universities were given a difficult task: determine how a country's accounting standards and regulations may have contributed to an alleged accounting scandal and propose changes to ensure accurate and complete financial reporting. Their ideas were evaluated by a panel of PricewaterhouseCoopers professionals, who named the top team at each campus.

Join us in congratulating all the students who participated and the top team from the University of Oregon:
