Shortstop Breanne Sabol (12) has started every game but one in two years at Oregon.

over that before you get to college," second baseman Erin Goodell said. "But (Sabol) wishes more than anything that she was Britney Spears; she thinks she looks like her, she wishes she could be her. It's a huge joke on our team because she talks about her at least three times a day, so you can't not make fun of it a little bit."

Luckily, there are two sides to every story.

"I've never been to any of her concerts," Sabol said. "But I like Britney Spears and I like her music. She came out when I was in eighth grade, so of course I kind of grew up with her. (The team) will joke with me because I actually like Britney Spears' music and I'll go out and buy her CDs and stuff."

As long as Sabol is a good sport about Britney, she will be known for that. Oh, and for her stellar defense in her first two years on the field.

No. 23 Oregon

The Ducks have surpassed expectations under new head coach Martin Smith. Despite recruitment being scaled back the past couple of years, Oregon won its only team-scoring meet at the Pepsi Team Invitational, a meet in which conference foe Washington competed.

Arizona State

The Sun Devils currently lead the conference championships after Jacquelyn Johnson triumphed in the heptathlon last weekend. Her score of 5,603 points has earned her an automatic berth into the NCAA Championships, scheduled to start June 9. She also is the first Sun Devil heptathlete to win the event.

Washington

Youth will also be relied upon to score for the Huskies. Freshman Dallan Williams is the leader for the squad in the 3,000 meter steeplechase (10:41.78) and the 5,000 meters (16:41.19).

Freshman Ashley Lodree has posted an impressive time in the 100 meter hurdles at 13.39 seconds.

Arizona

The Wildcats are led by junior Sharifa Jones, who is their top runner in the 100 meter hurdles (13.13 seconds) and top long jumper at 20-10.

Washington State

Jump events are the strength of the Cougars. Sophomore Robin Mikesh and senior Stephanie Jaroos are the team's top high jumpers after clearing at least 5-8 this season.
