Events for lovers, haters alike at Halloween time

A variety of performances around town are guaranteed to make this Halloween weekend action-packed

BY AMY LIGHTY
 PULSE REPORTER

Halloween is finally here. Now is the time to put the last-minute details on costumes, stock up on as much candy (or alcohol) as possible and decide what to do. Because Halloween is on a Sunday this year, the whole weekend can be packed with fun things leading up to the big bang. For both Halloween lovers and haters, there are plenty of options.

Friday has events happening all over town. At the University, there's Friday Nite Flicks, sponsored by the UO Cultural Forum, in PLC 180. Wizards, werewolves and witches are just some of the things you can see in "Harry Potter 3: The Prisoner of Azkaban."

Also that night from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., the Cultural Forum and the Housing Department are putting on an 80s dance at the EMU Fishbowl. Free food and mocktails are available, and a prize will be given out for best costume. Best of all, it's free.

Just across town at the WOW Hall, the Better Than You Battles II will be taking place. MCs will battle each other to see who is the best. The event begins at 8 p.m. and costs $10 at the door.

Saturday night will be filled with parties, concerts and wild times to be had by all. At the Wetlands Brew Pub, there will be a show featuring the Sawyer Family, the Courtesy Clerks, Station Wagon and the Shuders. The show starts at 10 p.m. and costs $5.

There will be more rock music at Sam Bond's Garage with a concert titled "Happy Halloween with Yeltsin, the Ovulators and Activator" at 9:30 p.m. The cost is $5.

If salsa music sounds like more fun, check out Luna, where Eugene-based Latin salsa band Caliente will be performing. The 11-piece ensemble includes two former members of the Cherry Pop-pin' Daddies and trumpet players Dana Heitman and Sean Flannery. The show starts at 9:30 p.m. and will cost $8.

After a long night of partying, help your mind heal before Sunday night's rowdy celebrations by seeing the UO School of Music's symphony and choir perform J.S. Bach's "Magnificat" and Wolfgang Mozart's "C Minor Mass." There's no need to purchase any tickets for this Oct. 31 event held in the Silva Concert Hall at the Hult Center. The lobby opens at 2 p.m. Sunday and seating is first-come, first-serve. Seats are expected to fill up quickly.

Also on Sunday is Sam Bond's Irish Jam, which begins at 4 p.m. It's open to all ages and costs nothing. Performing later that night at Sam basic, the type of yarn used can make the project look far from ordinary.

"You can find a fun yarn with lots of color and character, which will also hide your mistakes," she said.

Many knit for the purpose of creating items they can use or give as gifts, but Rummel said the hobby has extra benefits.

"(Knitting) has a real calming influence," she said. "It helps children who have ADD learn to have a focus. It also helps with hand-eye coordination and math skills."

For all age groups, Soft Horizons Fibre has all the necessities for a fiber arts project — a wealth of supplies, trendy yarns and lots of assistance for first-timers.

"The shop's aesthetics, variety and professionalism are great here," Nicholson said. "Mona is a fiber artist, and that comes through in the shop. There are so many things you can learn here."
