Concert: Guest instructors help dance classes

Department Chair Jenifer Craig said the guest instructors helped create a community in the dance department.

"We love having them interact with students and a great way to do that is to have them teach class," she said. "It's inspiring for students to work with dancers from the professional world."

Lewitzky, who was an artist and activist for the arts, shared her passions with Eugene on numerous occasions. Craig will introduce the Lewitzky-choreographed excerpts during the show by giving a background on the dances themselves and Lewitzky's contributions to Eugene.

"She gave a lot to this community," Craig said. "She taught here, she was very supportive of the dance department and the local arts scene, and she was the first dancer to present works for the Oregon Bach Festival."

Vivona, who performed in the Bella Lewitzky company for five years, said the show will entertain viewers as well as educate them about an important figure in dance history.

"I hope the audience comes away with enjoying the choreography and also an understanding of Bella, her place in dance history, and how she lives on with Walter and other dancers who continue to teach her works," Vivona said.

"Walter Kennedy and Dancers" will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets cost $10 for students and $15 to $20 for general admission; they are available at the EMU Ticket Office or the Hult Center box office at 682-5000.

IN BRIEF

Folk singer receives award

ROME — The singer once known as Cat Stevens will receive a peace prize from a foundation headed by former leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

Yusuf Islam is expected to attend Wednesday's ceremony in Rome, where he'll receive the Man for Peace award from Gorbachev, said

Enzo Cursio, a spokesman for the Gorbachev Foundation.

In September, the British musician was expelled from the United States after authorities diverted his London-to-Washington flight to Maine to remove him, saying he was suspected of ties to terrorism.

Islam will receive the award "for his dedication to promote peace the reconciliation of people and to condemn terrorism."
