minority representation in student government, won their seats, with six winning a majority of the vote in their race and four running completely unopposed.

Ballot Measure 21, designed to show students' interest in powering the EMU with wind energy and funding other sustainability projects, passed 1,150-277.

Voter turnout in the primary election was similar to last year's, with 2,960 students, or about 15.1 percent of the student body, participating. Last year, 14.1 percent participated.

Results from the election were released at about 11:45 p.m. Sunday night after grievances and a Constitution Court injunction delayed the process for more than two days.

The primary election will run Wednesday through Friday at 5 p.m.

The rest of the results are as follows:
