

Pac-10 Picks

It's round two of Pac-10 picks, a friendly competition where two Emerald football beat writers and another staff member compete against the campus community to see who truly knows their Pac-10 football. The records of the Emerald staff (home) and UO community (away) are posted on the scoreboard below.

Pac-10: Harrison breaks school rushing yards record

Cal hadn't lost two straight games since October of 2003, when they were defeated by UCLA and Oregon State.

The Cougars surrendered a fourth-quarter lead to No. 8 UCLA last Saturday and lost 44-41 in overtime. Senior running back Jerome Harrison will be a main force to keep the Cougars in this weekend's game. Last weekend, Harrison rushed for 100-plus yards in his ninth consecutive game, breaking a school record. Harrison averages 166.8 rushing yards per game, which is best in the Pac-10 and second-best in the nation.

"They have a very good receiving corps. Their running back is very quick, catches the ball well, hits the hole hard, has great balance," Cal head coach Jeff Tedford said. "They do a nice job schematically. I think offensively they stay pretty healthy in their field positions."
