Basketball: Former WNBA player scores 18

Northwest Sports is a traveling team made of former women's college basketball players. Ex-WNBA player Stacy Clinesmith scored 18 points for the rapid fire three-point shooting team. Sports launched 33 three-point shots Sunday and made seven.

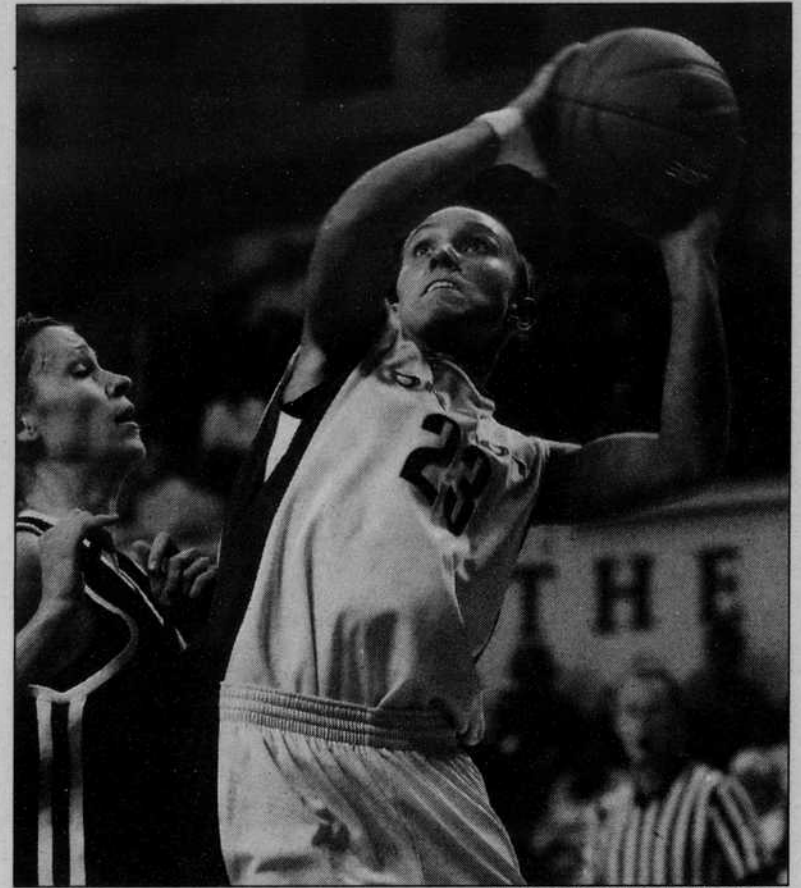

Oregon started the game by trading baskets before using an 18-3 run including two three-point plays by forward Kristen Forristall gave Oregon a 19-point halftime lead.

Northwest Sports used its quick shooting to pull within 61-48 halfway through the second half, but Oregon responded with baskets by Ganes, Cicely Oaks and Eleanor Haring to expand the lead to 69-52.

Gabrielle Richards added her second double-double of the preseason with 22 points and 10 rebounds.

Similar to the first exhibition game against the University of British Columbia, Smith used a deep rotation, giving every player except freshman Tamika Nurse more than 10 minutes of playing time. Forward Yadili Okwumabua sat out again as she recovers from off-season knee surgery.
